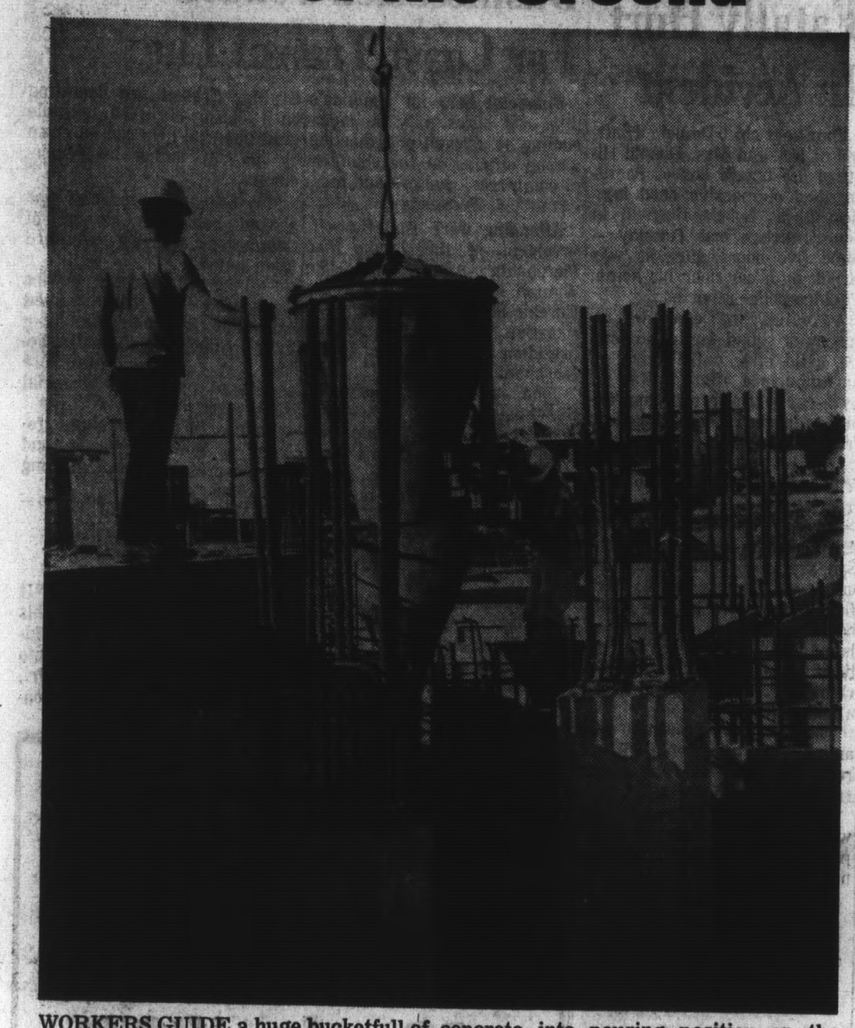
'Out of the Ground'



WORKERS GUIDE a huge bucketfull of concrete into pouring position on the construction site of the new Daly City civic center. Completion date for the $2.2 million building is set for March 1967. MARCH '67 TARGET DATE

Daly City Civic Center Is On Schedule Despite the Rains

The new Daly City civic center is "out of the ground" now and about 30 per cent completed according to building and city officials.

Frank Walsh, building inspector on the project, said last week that "even the weather won't be too much of a hindrance now that we are working on the second floor."

Rains had hampered construction of the $2.2 million structure but a moving-in date of March, 1967, is still the target at which officials are shooting.

"We are proceeding right along on schedule now," said Arthur Reschke, city engineer, last week. "That March date still holds."

The new building, situated between Ninetieth and Ninety-second Streets and Edgeworth and Sullivan Avenues, is being called one of the most elaborate such facilities ever built in the North County.

Neo-classic in design, the building will have three wings when completed. The center wing will have a "high roof" which will rise above the two adjoining units.

Architects for the project are Donald S. Haines-Zaven Taterian and Associates.

According to Walsh "the entire architectural treatment of the building is unusual." Even the materials

HOT FIGHT LOOMS IN PACIFICA

25 Candidates to Vie for Ten North County City Council Seats

The political fires were burning all across the North County today as final filing produced hot council races in four cities.

Seeking election April 12 as councilmen or other civic positions were an array of candidates ranging from police chiefs and ex-mayors to a cemetery receptionist.

Hottest fight shaping up was in Pacifica where an impressive array of challengers to three incumbent councilmen included the former mayor, the former manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and a former school trustee.

Here is the lineup:

DALY CITY will chose from three incumbents and three challengers in the April municipal election.

Councilmen Bernard Lycett, Micheal DeBernardi, and Edward Dennis have filed for re-election.

They will be joined on the ballot by Del C. Wilson, 206 Alta Loma Avenue, a former councilman; Robert D. Sherwood, 128 St. Francis Boulevard, an assistant yardmaster for Southern Pacific, and Eugene Vinje, 532 Niantic Avenue, a Jefferson Elementary School District employe.

IN PACIFICA, three council seats are in contention.

Incumbents Fred Ballew, Harland Minshew and Don McMannis are in the race, with six challengers.

Running are William Hartz, 1136 Manzanita Drive, San Francisco Finance Company manager; Nick Gust, 140 Essex Way, a restaurant owner; Frank M. Wright, 1335 Grand Avenue; Robert E. Keating, Box 565, a former Laguna Sa-

Absences Hit New Peaks In North County

Flu Outbreak Is Widespread

Absenteeism climbed to new highs this week in a number of North County schools.

But some educators said the current flu epidemic may not be entirely responsible, noting that many families may have planned four-day vacations with their children, to take advantage of Washington's Birthday.

Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools in Daly City closed after only a half day Monday, because of a lack of teachers. Nearly one-fifth of Westmoor's faculty was out with the flu.

Student absences at Jefferson soared past the 30 per cent mark.

In the four schools of the Jefferson Union High School District, the absentee rate was approximately 25 per cent—or about 1600 of the district's 6300 students.

Laguna Salada Elementary District counted 2183 students absent Monday—23 per cent of the enrollment of 9,570. The figure represents a 600 per cent rise over the number of absences on a normal day.

In the Jefferson Elementary District, 1644 students stayed away from classes Monday, for an absentee rate of about 19 per cent of the district's 8,344 children.

In the South San Francisco Unified School District, no classes were scheduled for Monday.

Coast Girds For Vote On Three Plans

Working committees have been appointed for three Pacifica ballot proposals that will be decided at the April 12 municipal elections.

Oceana High Scohol Principal Ernest Ribera has been named co-ordinator of the bond proposal committees.

Also chosen at a meeting last Wednesday were: Roland Bianchi, chairman, finance committee; Ken Strom, publicity, and Margaret McCoy, chairman, voter contact committee.

The three proposals considered essential to Pacifica's growth by city officials are: A—Public Recreational Areas (beach purchase); B—Civic Center Site, and C—Senior Citizens Housing.

Approval of A will guarantee that Pacifica's beaches will always remain open to the public. It would also help to establish the recreational potential of the beaches as a key to Pacifica's total future economy, city officials say.

Approval of B will enable the city to acquire a site for its Civic Center, including room for a community building. The present city hall is a former

Daly City Mayor Frank Pacelli called them "the best group we've ever had."

And the real councilmen and city officials sitting in the audience may have been a little nervous to see high school students doing their jobs so well.

The occasion was a City Council meeting conducted Monday night by students from Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools as part of Daly City's annual Youth in Government Week.

Student Mayor Alan McAllister guided the session, which, to observers, was startlingly similar to the real thing.

For instance, a letter requesting repaving of MacDonald Ave-

Big Turnout Seen For Tower Hearing

A "sizeable turnout" is expected at tonight's meeting of the Daly City Planning Commission, according to City Planner Edward Lawson.

The reason is a proposed community television relay tower planned for city reservoir property in the 800 block of Skyline Drive.

Lawson said he has personally contacted several residents of the neighborhood and last Wednesday mailed notices of the forthcoming meeting to everyone who lives within 300 feet of the tower site.

None of the neighbors contacted knew anything about the proposed antenna, he said, in spite of posted notices (which nobody read), public hearings (which nobody attended) and newspaper stories (which, apparently, nobody paid any attention to).

Lawson said his calls to neighbors stirred up "quite a bit of interest" in the proposed tower, which would be built by the California Cable Communications Corporation to serve residents of the Westlake Terrace area.

The company holds a franchise from Daly City.

The 40-foot tower would be erected on city property leased to the company. The land is between 813 and 827 Skyline Drive.

The most recent public hearing on the matter was continued to tonight's meeting, because it had not appeared on the previous agenda.

Planners hope to settle the question tonight. The commission will meet at 8:30 in the Council chambers in the Daly City hall.

Miss America will visit Daly City tonight as part of her first tour of the West Coast.

Deborah Bryant, 19, of Kansas City, Kansas, will appear at the H. Liebes store in the Westlake Shopping Center, where she will model in a fashion show.

She will be welcomed to Daly City by Susann Bernard, Miss Daly City.

Tonight's Westlake appearance will be at 7:30. Included in the wardrobe she will model is everything from

Chief Savage to Run For San Mateo Sheriff Post

Ray Savage, chief of police in the unincorporated Broadmoor district, has announced he will be a candidate for Sheriff of San Mateo County in the June county elections.

Savage, 48, has been with the Broadmoor force since 1950 when he joined the force as a reserve officer. He became a patrolman in 1951 and was appointed chief in 1952.

The Broadmoor Police District is the last such special district in the state.

Savage would oppose incumbent Sheriff Earl Whitmore, who has indicated he will seek re-election.

Candidates must wait until next Mondap, when the filing period opens before officially placing themselves in the race.

Teachers Ask Increase In Substitutes

Exercising their new function as a negotiating council, representatives of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association discussed substitute teacher shortages with trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday night.

Teachers Warren Twitchell, Mike Pennings, Jess Parks, and Mrs. Marilyn Harris gave a history of what they called the critical shortage of recurrent substitute shortages.

They described instances where administrators or teachers who had given up prep periods were used to substitute.

Concern was expressed for the "loss of continuity" of the children's programs.

Causes for substitute shortages were attributed to new federal projects, the Fisher Bill, which limits the fields of teach-

An Auditorium for Pacifica?

USE OF THIS proposed Pacifica Boys' Club building would not be confined to members, according to club spokesman Roland Terry. Facility would include gymnasium, which could convert to 1200-seat auditorium for community events. City officials are studying plans to build the structure on donated land in Linda Mar section.

S.S.F. Awards Contract For Library Work

South San Francisco Councilmen Monday night approved a final construction contract in connection with the city's new $750,000 library and emergency operating center on West Orange Avenue, adjacent to the California Golf Club.

The contract is for landscaping and other work outside the building, which will include a small outdoor theater, according to City Manager Eugene Aiello.

The contract, for $27,400, was awarded to the A. M. Hardy Company of San Francisco. Aiello said work on the building, both inside and out, is expected to be completed in late May or early June.

In other business, the council reaffirmed its support of an outer bayshore freeway when it approved a report by a subcommittee of the Regional Planning

PACIFICA PLANS BOND VOTE

A 'Land-Locked' Beach Town

By BERENICE PALMER

ALTHOUGH Pacifica might be called a beach town, in many ways it is "land-locked." Many areas exist in the community where there is no access to the beach because of difficult terrain or blockage by private housing and ownership.

A two-thirds favorable vote for Measure A on April 12 will enable the city to purchase approximately 41 acres of beach front and adjacent land at Linda Mar, Sharp Park, and Pacific Manor. Development of a fourth beach service area at Mori's Point would also be possible.

Purchase of these four beach and beach service areas will guarantee to present and future Pacificans unrestricted access to and use of more than 2½ miles of ocean beach, city officials emphasize.

ALMOST ALL the beach towns in Southern California, from Santa Barbara to Imperial Beach, provide unlimited beach access for the public. On the East Coast, from Ogunquit, Me., to Miami Beach, the same public access to the beaches exists.

Approval of beach purchase bonds will guarantee that Pacifica beaches will also always remain open to the public, the officials explain.

What about the remaining private beach areas — such as Rockaway Beach? By encouraging recreational developments in these areas, the city hopes to prevent any private useage and thus encourage public use.

Long-term commercial recreation leases on some of the beach purchase sections would provide the city income for further beach development and improvement.

IF VOTERS APPROVE the bond issue, a beach cleanup program would be conducted by the city. Intensified policing of all public areas would also be inaugurated. Improvement of accesses is contemplated as well as interim rest room facilities.

Application would be made to the State Wildlife Conservation Board to finance up to 100 per cent of the cost of beach access roads, parking areas, rest rooms and related beach improvements.

Major beach development and erosion control, however, is still at least five years distant. This would include fishing piers and groins (cement jetties).

However, once the beaches are publicly owned, the federal government would give $820,000 in matching funds through the Open Space Grant Program and look favorably on providing funds for other projects.

Total cost of the beach areas is estimated at $1,865,000. The bond issue would raise the funds by selling General Obligation Bonds to be repaid over a 30-year period.

WHAT IS IT going to cost the taxpayer, if he approves the beach bonds?

According to the city's financial consultants, a five-cent beach purchase tax levy would cover the total cost of the project for the first 22 years of the 30-year life of the bonds.

A five-cent tax rate on an average Pacifica home with a market value of $20,000 and an assessed value of $5,000 would amount to $2.50 per year or about 21 cents per month.

The cost of 21 cents is called reasonable by any standards by city officials.

Pacifica Boy Fatally Hurt In Accident

Four-year-old Daniel Hiatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hiatt of 915 Crespi Drive, Pacifica, died of massive head injuries at St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco last Tuesday — some five hours after he was struck by a car near his home, Pacifica police reported.

A Pacifica Fire Department resuscitator squad worked to keep the child alive until arrival of an ambulance after he was hit by a car when he ran from behind a parked pickup truck in front of 932 Crespi.

He had been playing with a friend, Scott Ingham, also 4, in front of Scott's house.

Driver of the vehicle, Walter A. Figone, 42, a mechanic for a San Francisco auto agency, living at 991 Zamora Drive, Pacifica, told officers he was southbound on Crespi on his way home from work when he noticed a blurred figure on the right side of his car and heard a thump.

The child was thrown 30 feet and hit the pavement, officers reported. They said he never regained consciousness.

According to police, Figone was traveling within 25 miles per hour speed limit. He was not cited.

Businessmen Ponder Aid For Coast Transit Line

Financial help for Pacifica's little red buses may be forthcoming as a result of a meeting among officials of the chamber of commerce, realtors and merchants last Wednesday.

Attending were Bud Beshoff, president of the Linda Mar Merchants' Association, Mike Wyman, president of the Eureka Square Merchant's Association, and Herb Kresel, president of the Pacific Manor Merchant's Association.

John Ambrosius represented the Coastside Board of Realtors, and Lee Riewertz, Pacific Markets. City Manager Karl Baldwin also attended.

The three little red buses of El Mar Transit are operating on a sharply-curtailed schedule until financial help can be given by the city and-or local merchants.

"No one at the meeting was against helping," Chamber of Commerce Manager Bernard Lake stated.

"All agreed that the service is needed but they wanted something in writing to take back to their memberships before free customer tickets are purchased or other financial aid is given."

Lake said that a rough proposal is being drawn up and will be presented at a meeting on February 23.

S.S.F. Boy Dies of Gunshot

A 14-year-old South San Francisco boy shot and killed himself at his home last Wednesday afternoon, and authorities were attempting to determine whether it was accidental or intentional.

Chief John Fabbri said: "It appears at this time that this tragedy was an accident," adding that the investigation into the death of John Edwards Jr., 14, 403 Alhambra Road was continuing.

SUPERVISOR POST

Jean Fassler To Seek Election

Pacifica's Jean Fassler today announced she will seek election to the board of supervisor's post she has held since her appointment by Governor Brown January 4, 1965.

She was named then to fill a post made vacant by the death of former mayor Joseph Verducci of Daly City. He won election to the board but died a month before he was to have taken office.

Since joining the board, Mrs. Fassler has been appointed to a number of county and area organizations, including the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority, the Regional Planning Committee, the Local Agency Formation Commission, the Mental Health Advisory Board and the Waste Disposal Site Committee.

She is now serving as the vice chairman of the board of supervisors.

Mrs. Fassler played a key role in the early development of Pacifica after its incorporation in 1957. She was elected to the City Council in 1957, re-elected in 1960 and served as the city's mayor three times.

In addition, she has been a member of a number of Pacifica civic, community and charitable organizations.

She is married to Joseph L. Fassler, head plant representative of Standard Oil Company of San Francisco and they are the parents of three children, Wally Fassler of 1174 Alicante Drive, married and the father of four children; Greg, a freshman at the College of San Mateo and Lynn, a freshman at Terra Nova High School.

In announcing her candidacy, Mrs. Fassler declared:

"After more than a year of service on the board, I feel that I possess the background of experience and knowledge to work effectively with the many challenging problems and opportunities that face the county and its people."

nue drew a reply from City Engineer Ivan Eng that no funds were available. "All we can do is keep filling up the holes," he said.

Councilman Jeff Thomas said he thought Mission Street should be redeveloped. But, like professional planners and everyone else who has considered the task, Thomas was uncertain where to begin.

"I hope to study this problem so I can find out just what kind of redevelopment I want," he told his fellow councilmen.

The longest discussion involved an ordinance to establish a human rights commission, introduced by Councilwoman Marty Craig.

By establishing the commission, she said, "I believe we can reduce inter-group tensions to a minimum."

She explained that such a commission would investigate "unfair practices" and attempt to rectify injustices through "arbitration, mediation and conciliation." The ordinance won unanimous approval.

Also approved unanimously was a proposal for a swimming pool at Westmoor High School.

The council agreed that the pool would serve the entire community and voted to submit a half-million dollar pool bond issue to voters to see whether they wanted the facility.

In other measures, the students approved an appropriation of $9,000 to the police department for four more officers, set up a committee to study the need for books in city libraries, and approved a resolution to elect a full-time mayor and four councilmen for four-year terms —with the mayor to receive a salary of $500 per month.

In these and other matters, city officials agreed later, the students made it evident that they had done their homework well—examining the issues and determining what action to take.

used in the construction process are unusual.

Concrete used in the work is called "exploded lightweight aggregate" by Walsh. "This kind of concrete will give the building an entirely different texture and appearance in the end."

Guy F. Atkinson Company of South San Francisco is the prime contractor on the project. It has sub-contracted tasks to about 20 other smaller firms for special work.

Due to the usual delays, changes and unforeseen problems which arise on such a job, the total cost is expected to rise slightly.

Reschke said that "right now we are staying a little under the initial low bid but we don't expect to stay there."

"Naturally, there will be some changes which will cost us money," he concluded.

The project is being financed by a non-profit corporation which has agreements with three financial institutions to float a total of $2.5 million in bonds.

The bond issue, in addition to financing construction costs, will be used for a number of allied costs, including architects' fees, insurance and contingencies.

Reschke, speaking for his fellow city officials, said that "everyone is very happy with the building and feel that it will be a beautiful addition to the city."

The old city hall, which housed a portion of the city's offices (including the police department, the council chambers and others will not be torn down. Reschke said that it might be turned into a library.

But no matter what is done with the old city hall, the new civic center will be the pride and joy of Daly City.

It has been designed, planned, plotted and thus far built to be just that.

San Francisco pays substitute teachers $26 daily, and Half Moon Bay, $25, the teachers said.

Mrs. Harris recommended to the Board that greater efforts be made to recruit substitute teachers, that a welcoming policy be introduced, and that the number of contract substitutes be increased.

She added that all this would have no effect, however, unless the salaries were increased.

Thomas Noonan, chairman of the board of trustees, advised the Negotiating Council to submit its recommendations in writing to Supt. Frank Greenwood and said that action would be taken at the trustees' next meeting.

He suggested that the Council look into the problem of teacher absenteeism, the cause for substitutes, and make some comparative studies to present to the Board.

TWO COLMA town council seats will be filled in April.

The candidates are incumbents Raymond Ottoboni and Mrs. Rena Vallerga, and newcomer Fred Garbini, an employe of the Greyhound Bus Company.

In addition, Colma voters will select a treasurer and a clerk.

Mrs. Edna E. Jensen, a housewife, Charles F. Gerrans, a cemetery caretaker, and Mrs. Mary Vera Ryan, a cemetery receptionist, are seeking the job of retiring treasurer Gilbert Parker.

Town Clerk Blanche Lagomasino is unopposed for re-election.

Busy Bandit Robs Market In Daly City

A bandit who apparently crammed a full day's work into one short afternoon robbed a Daly City market Sunday and escaped after an enraged gasoline station attendant gave chase.

The robber, who, according to the police report, is a prime suspect in three hold-ups Sunday, in San Francisco, held up the Pacific Market of 6212 Mission Street at about 5 p.m. and got away with $370.

On leaving the scene, the robber nearly sideswiped a car owned by Dennis Stahlman of 6234 Mission Street in Daly City who works at a gas station across the street from the crime.

Stahlman chased the bandit onto San Jose Avenue but lost him near the Alemany Freeway.

At the holdup the robber displayed a six-inch gray revolver and told the checker, Uriarte Gustavos of San Francisco, to "put everything on top."

He drove off in a car described as "extremely dirty" by the police report.

The suspect was described as about 32 years old with red hair.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

At the Jefferson High School District Board of Trustees meeting held at Oceana high School on February 7, several citizens living in our high school district made statements pertaining to redistricting and establishing new boundary lines as recommended by the committee delegated to make this study.

Your paper reported this meeting, as is your job, but in this reporting you quoted several statements based on emotion rather than fact.

Just how do you expect a faculty to react to being told that they are offering a "substandard education" to their students?

What does a teacher say to a student who has been called "the crumb of the crop" by an adult of the community in a public meeting?

ALLOW ME to point out a few of the things our substandard students have done with their sub-standard education.

Last summer four of our eleventh graders attended different universities under a National Science Foundation grant.

A senior this year was the winner in Zone Nine of the Bay Area Engineers Week Scholarship.

One of our seniors who will graduate in June has already been accepted at Kansas University and the University of California; another has been accepted into the honors program at the University of California.

I invite some of you parents to observe this "crumb of the crop" in action at their model senate, or in their student government or in their human relations committee, or at their next band concert.

I must agree that Jefferson High School offers many remedial classes in reading, arithmetic, and so forth, but we also offer many advanced classes, some of which are the largest in the district.

And incidentally, what is wrong with remedial classes? Must all students be at least above average in intelligence? I, as a faculty member, resent. All teachers are not outstanding, anymore than all doctors, lawyers, or scientists are outstanding.

I believe that we have more than our share of outstanding teachers as evidence by the leadership shown by the Jefferson faculty in the district.

I recognize that when we as parents speak about the education of our children, we become very emotionally involved, yet I implore each of you as parents to think of what you are doing to someone else's child before you start name calling.

Loyd Silberstein, chairman
Jefferson High School, Teachers Association.

The Daly City Council, as stated in The San Mateo Times Nov. 9, 1965, criticized the Board of Supervisors of San Mateo County for spending available funds for a park located at Pescadero in South San Mateo County.

Daly City officials declared: "We need a park here." That statement was made only three months ago.

The following statement was reported in The San Mateo Times Jan. 25, 1966: 'Daly City rejects San Bruno Mountain Park project." Why the change?

The San Bruno Park project is supported by the City Councils of South San Francisco and Brisbane and by the San Mateo County Park and Recreation Commission.

If all the surrounding communities can join together, including these hypocritical officials of Daly City, a large regional park can be established on San Bruno Mountain.

Otherwise, the mountain may end up as bay fill. Now is an auspicious time for all Statistically this is impossible.

TO BE OFFERING a substandard education implies substandard teaching, and this local residents to speak up for the conservation of this mountain.

We suggest that those interested in conserving this land visit the mountain and see for themselves the unsurpassed panoramic view of the entire Bay Area.

Although this is private property and trespassing is not encouraged, there is a modern highway leading upward to the mountain's ridges.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kielian,
120 Drake Avenue,
South San Francisco.

S.F. State Opens Play Tomorrow

Hans Christian Anderson's perceptive and immortal tale, "The Emperor's New Clothes," a story of fabled Cathay, is the spring production of the San Francisco State College Children's Theatre.

It is being performed for six engagements in the Little Theatre opening tomorrow.

The play, directed by Douglas M. Briggs, Instructor of Drama, is offered in classical Chinese style. Its setting, by Jack Simon, is a reproductiontof a typical Chinese theatre, with lanterns and banners included in the auditorium.

Costumes by Gerd Mairandes follow the traditional color and decoration.

The script is by Charlotte Chorpenning based on the famed Anderson fable.

The role of the Emperor, who vainly seeks fabulous and unique garb, is played by Leonard Passalaque. He is a 19-year-old English major from Santa Cruz.

Performances are scheduled at 4 p.m. tomorrow and Friday.

There is also an 8 p.m. Friday showing. On Saturday, three presentations are given: 10:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

NOT HAVING HEARD any mention of the subject for several weeks, we feel it the appropriate time to spring our scoop about the pro football practice of "covering up," or "baby-sitting" top prospects.

The almost literal abduction of college prospects by professional "fans" to protect the prospects from possibly more generous benefactors last fall revised the definition of "amateur" from, "one who plays for fun," to, "one who doesn't accept checks."

Baby-sitters went to any lengths to keep their prospects happy, and provided them with whatever they required, which was usually around half a million dollars. And even though, occasionally, their triple threats turned out to be guys who could eat, sleep and drink, it was usually worth all the effort.

Which leads to our scoop, which is where they have been stashing these bonus babies.

THE WORLD has heard of the motel room and jet plane hideaways, but those have merely been plots to detract from the PRIME place, the place which has been among the best kept secrets since the Manhattan Project and Ringo's sex.

The place is Siskiyou County, not to mention, perhaps, the Himalayas. ....

That's right. Remember the "Big Foot" stories which were circulating during the fall, the stories which always seem to circulate during the fall, around the end of the college football season?

Considering Big Foot's smell, size, slyness, quickness and hirsute countenance, we have no choice but to believe it was Tommy Nobis—and the rest of his ilk — being both "sat" and groomed by the "fans" and deoderant and razorblade sales representatives.

EVER SEARCHING for the answer to the difference between the good and the great athlete, the best answer is perhaps the simplest. The great ones really enjoy playing.

Joe DiMaggio always said that when the game became a job to him, he would quit, and he did. He could have hung on to that $100,000 for another year or two, but he didn't.

Ted Williams didn't stick around as long as he did only because of the money or the records he could break. He always admitted that he just loved to hit.

Stan Musial often said that he hung on for the simple reason that he loved to play baseball.

Willie Mays, of course, plays harder than most kids do on the sandlots.

There are many, many other examples, all of which include, we think you will find, one other factor — pride.

Writing of Mays reminds us of his $125,000 and how cheap he is at the price, and how Maury Wills, who is supposedly now clamoring for $100,000 is also worth every penny of it. O'Malley'll make that back the first few home games the Dodgers play in '66. Outside of Koufax, who else do Dodger fans go to see?

And writing of baseball reminds us also that we haven't heard a word from the people who claimed the Giants didn't need Cepeda last year. As temperamental as Cepeda is, and as good a fill-in job as Gabrielson did, no one will ever convince us that Cepeda might not have made the difference.

WE ALL HEAR, incidentally, of the unpublicized good deeds Willie performs, and we personally heard of one from an acquaintance last year which will now be publicized.

Our informant at one time lived near Mays, and had a young son who went to all the games. One day he met Willie outside the park, introduced himself, and asked for a ride home from his neighbor. Willie obliged, and the rides became a ritual, along with ensuing free ducats for the youngster and his friends.

Willie eventually met the boy's parents and they became friends. Our informant, in the meantime, had a relative who had been a life-long Giant fan, and who was now dying at Laguna Honda.

Willie was asked if he would visit the lady, and he said he would, on his next day off or if the Giants played a quick afternoon game one day. Our acquaintance thought it was a put-off, but a few days later the Giants played a quickie and Willie, without fanfare, showed up at Laguna Honda and spent an hour with the dying lady.

That wasn't all. One of the nurses told Willie that a 15-year-old boy in the children's section would love to meet him, so Willie met the kid, and ended up spending the afternoon at the place visiting everybody who wanted to be visited.

And just think. Besides all that, Willie Mays can hit, field, run and throw.

WE HOPE this isn't sour grapes, but Oakland deserves the hockey franchise. The Seals — like the Mets, et al — will be losers for a long time, and Oakland fans never could stand losers.

Bing Crosby and his group, five years hence, may be begging for the Cow Palace.

AS THE YANKEES (before last year) when they were winning and never seemed to have a .300 hitter or 20 game winner, the Celtics also win without ever, it seems, a 20 point man . . . and Tom Meschery, incidentally, is the only NBA player who now lists his hometown as San Francisco.

LOCAL PREP NOTES:

Terra Nova's baseball hopes suffered a cruel blow in the fall when their big righthander, Bob Marr, was seriously enough injured in an auto accident to retire him from active baseball for his senior year.

But we said active baseball, please note, because Big Bob, crutches and all, will act as coach Al Figone's pitching coach this season.

South City's Jim Henry and Greg Jones continue to hang in there among Northern California's top 40 scorers.

It may not exactly have showed up in final standings, but Oceana's wrestling team, under the direction of Jack Thur, was the surprise squad of the year.

OTHER LOCAL NOTES: Stan Fetterman, former S.F. State lefty who once out-pitched Eddie Cereghino in one of the classic semi-pro duals in which every pro scout in existance was out to watch Big Ed, is now part owner (with his brother) of Electric Garage Door, Inc., of San Francisco and Daly City.

Bobby Rumion, who came all the way from Hawaii (where he's a hotel manager) to play in the San Francisco golf tournament and qualified on a weather-beaten Sharp Park golf course, never played golf until three years ago.

NEXT STOP–STANFORD

Warriors Cop Crown

All Hemmed In

The North Peninsula League basketball race is over and the South San Francisco High School Warriors, to the surprise of virtually no one, are the new champions.

South San Francisco won the title, held by Westmoor for the past three years, by virtue of an easy 71-39 win over Jefferson, prime threat to the Warriors for the crown.

Coach Bill Purcell's team, 10-0 in league play and 16-2 against high school competition this year, sewed up the crown last week with one of their best showings of the NPL season.

After the Warriors tackle El Camino and Oceana this week they trek down to Stanford University for the Peninsula Basketball Tournament where they will represent the NPL.

And, if their showing in their own league is any indication, South San Francisco ought to hold its own in the tournament.

"I'm just tickled pink," declared jubilant Warriors' Coach Bill Purcell. "Don Guthrie (South San Francisco Athletic Director) tells me that this is the first varsity championship since 1939. That's just too long a drought, and I'm proud to be a part of this club. The boys have been talking about the Palo Alto tournament all year, and well, now it's a reality. We're all anxious."

As ironic as it may seem, the offense - minded Warriors clinched the title with a tremendous show of team defense. Leading the visiting Jefferson tribe only 26-22 at the half-way point, South San Francisco held Jeff to four points in the third quarter while scoring 19 to break the game wide open. Warrior co-captain Jim Henry blocked seven shots during the third quarter to thwart Jefferson's scoring plans.

All of the Warriors shared in glory. Greg Jones hit for nine ponts in the opening quarter to keep the pressure on the Indians; Henry garnered eight markers in the second quarter and blocked five shots; reserve guard Kevin Pickett hit on a 25-foot jumper to spark the third quarter surge, and together the Warriors blitzed the net for 26 points in the final stanza.

Willie Redmond, ailing with the flu, meshed 14 points to lead Jeff scorers, but coach Mike Orlich's praise was for the Warriors.

"They have a fine club. Jones and Henry are two of the best in the county, and I wish Purcell luck at Stanford."

"It would be another feather in our cap if we could go undefeated in league play, and I'm sure that we won't let up for our rival Camino next week. I know they won't let up!"

In the lightweight contest, the Warriors remained in first place with a 46-37 win. Don Sarcletti collected 19 points for the victors.

Wednesday's encounter at El Camino will tip-off at 4:30 with the class B contest. The varsity game follows.

The Indian cage team, runner-up in the North Peninsula League with a 7-3 mark, past winless Half Moon Bay, 72-42 last Wednesday.

Even the loss of starters Claude Munday and Tom Pritchard, the first to the flu and the second to a bad knee, failed to slow down Orlich's Indians.

With Redmond leading the way in the first quarter with 12 ponts, Jeff vaulted out to a 22-9 lead at the end of the first session and never looked back.

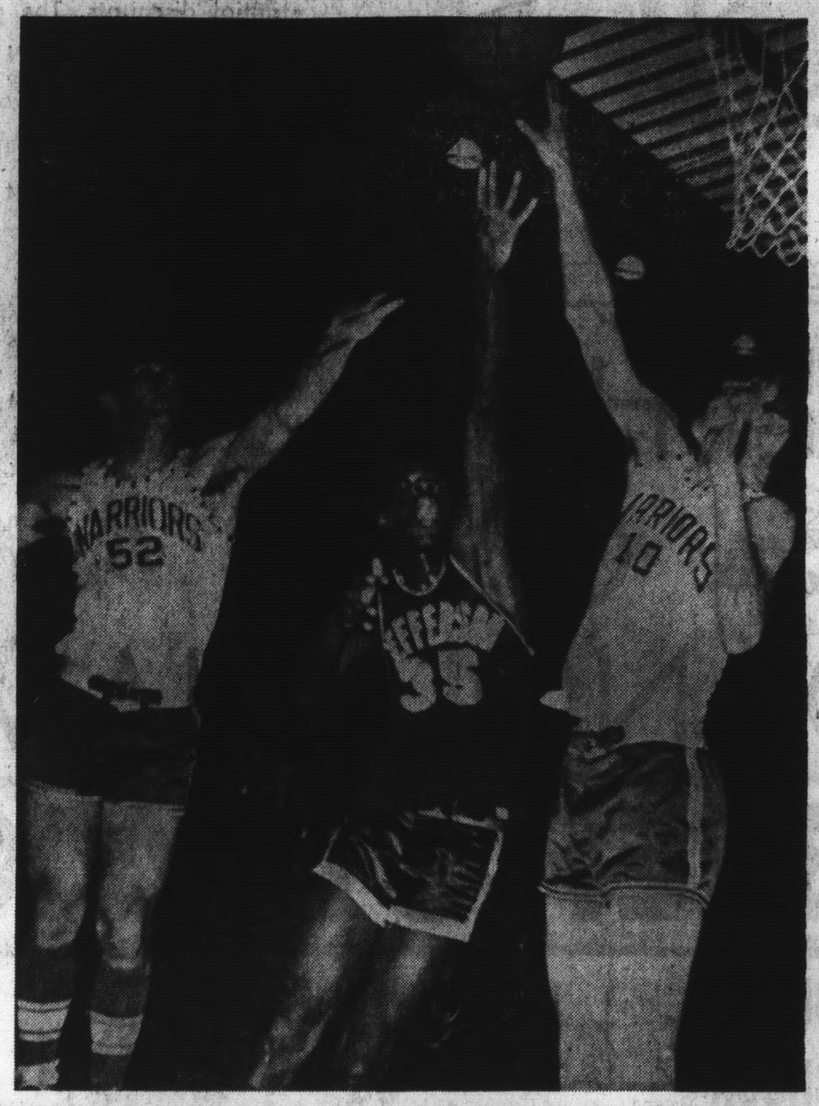
"I was naturally pleased with the work of Redmond and was especially happy over the good job reserve center Mike Furtch did on the boards," Orlich commented after the game.

The Indians led 32-19 at the half and really broke loose in the third period, outscoring Half Moon Bay, 24-6, for a 56-29 lead at the buzzer.

Orlich removed Redmond and the other starters in the fourth period after he was sure that Jeff had sewed up its seventh NPL win.

Redmond led all scorers with 24 points, followed by John Kirby with 15 markers. Jim Houston led the Cougars with 11 points.

The Indian lightweights, paced by Phil Randolph's 16 points, made it a sweep by routing the Half Moon Bay class B team, 62-28.



STANDOUT South San Francisco High School forwards Greg Jones, 52, and Jim Henry, 10, converge on Jefferson's star Willie Redmond, 35. Willie's club lost to the powerful Warriors, 71-39, last Friday afternoon in South San Francisco. With the victory, S.S.F. took the North Peninsula League title.

3-Way Fight On for NPL Scoring Title

Unlike the race for the North Peninsula League team title, the NPL basketball individual scoring derby has turned into a three-way battle.

Although San Francisco High School has taken the league championship in a virtual waltz, the individual scoring title won't be quite as easy to garner.

Two Warriors, Jim Henry and Greg Jones, are running neck and neck with El Camino's Mick Ackley for the crown. And Jefferson's Willie Redmond is not far behind this trio.

Henry, the loop leader since the season began, has watched his averages slide during the last two weeks but still leads the circuit by two points with 191 total and a 19.1 average.

Ackley is second with Jones a scant one-point behind him. Redmond is closing fast with 166 digits despite having played in one less contest than his competitors.

NPL Wrestlers Score in Tourney

North Peninsula League wrestlers scored heavily in the Central Coast Qualifying Tournament last weekend at Overfelt High School in San Jose.

South San Francisco tied for second place in the team totals with Camden. Both schools tallied 34 points. Fremont of Sunnyvale won the unofficial title with 41 points.

Westmoor, the NPL title-holder, came in eighth. The two NPL schools were the only San Mateo County units to finish in the top 10.

Individually, the Warriors placed three boys in the Northern California State Tournament which will be held at Del Valle High School in Walnut Creek this weekend.

Undefeated Armand Brett of the Warriors took first in the 98-pound class. Steve King, 157, took a second. Jim Lynch, 130, placed third.

Bob Morris of Westmoor, 136, placed second. Big John Lanthier of the Rams came in third in the unlimiteds.

Al Nammany of Jefferson, 194, managed a third. Corky Netherby, 106, copped a fourth.

All seven boys will compete at Del Valle.

CSM Nine Drops Pair

College of San Mateo played the gracious host in the CSM baseball tournament last weekend losing a pair of games.

The Bulldogs dropped their tournament opener to Fresno City College, 11-7, then lost a 19-12 contest to Allan Hancock College. The second game was called after seven innings because of darkness.

Santa Rosa Junior College picked up a pair of wins. The Bearcubs whipped Hancock, 4-2, then trimmed Fresno, 5-1.

The tournament was scheduled to resume today, weather permitting.

Don Lembi was the loser for San Mateo in the game against Fresno. Fresno's Bill Brown hit a pair of homers, a triple, a double and a single for a perfect five for five.

Tigers Gun For a .500 Mark Today

With just one game remaining on their North Peninsula League basketball schedule, Terra Nova Hih School's Tigers will be out to finish the loop campaign with a 6-6 record.

The Tigers travel to Jefferson today in an effort to close their season at the .500 mark.

Last week the TN outfit split its two games.

The Half Moon Bay Cougars lost their tenth straight game of the season last Friday, bowin to Terra Nova, 64-27.

It marked the fifth win in 11 games for the Tigers, who retained their fifth place spot in the standings, only a game behind fourth place Westmoor.

Terra Nova, platoonin the first string and the reserves, with the reserves starting and playing most of the game, held the Cougars to seven points in the first quarter. Half Moon Bay didn't score a field goal until the last 50 seconds of the first period. The Cougars got two more in the first half and added three field goals in the second half.

Last Wednesday the Tigers bowed to Westmoor, 50-32.

A late third period rally, spearheaded by Don Lippi, Ken Liss, and Tim Corcoran, broke open what had been a close contest and gave the Rams a safe 31-23 lead at the start of the fourth period.

"I was especinlly pleased with Liss' passes on the fast break," commented Giammona after the game. "And the pressure we kept on Mike Deurloo and Jim Bresnahan helped considerably," he added. Deurloo and Bresnahan, Terra Nova's two top scorers, could only manage ten points between them.

Losing Coach Rich Burt didn't hesitate in giving Westmoor credit. "They are a real improved team," Burt stated. "They wanted to win more than we did," he concluded.

The Coastside visitors, behind the shooting of Mike Kenny, grabbed a quick lead in the opening minutes. However, a driving lay-up by Westmoor's Corky Phelps at the buzzer enabled the Rams to take a 7-6 lead into the second quarter.

Corcoran shattered an 11-11 tie in the second quarter with a field goal, followed by two more buckets by Phelps and Lippi which allowed the Rams to walk off the floor at intermission with a 19-13 advantage.

Fast-break lay-ups by Bresnahan rallied Terra Nova to within three points, 24-21, just after the second half got under way. However, at this juncture the Rams once again caught fire and they were never in any trouble thereafter.

Giammona cleared the bench with two minutes to go in the game and the Rams holding a safe 47-28, lead.

High point man for the winners was Corcoran with 17, followed by teammates Lippi and Phelps with 12 each. Terra Nova was led by Kenny, who potted eight markers.

In the class B contest, Westmoor made it a sweep by downing Terra Nova 52-51.

Warrior 'Stopper'

FOILED AGAIN by South San Francisco High School's big Jim Henry, Jefferson's Mike Furtch, 45, seems to be screaming his frustration as the 6-6 Warrior blocks his shot. SSF beat Jeff, 71-39, to take the NPL basketball crown.

Engineers To Be Honored

"The abilities and efforts of the professional engineers are vital to the security, prosperity, comfort and general welfare of the citizens of the United States," Mayor Francis Pacelli of Daly City solemnly declared this week.

He issued a proclamation designating this week as "Engineers' Week" in Daly City.

Colts Win, Move Into Tie for 2nd

El Camino High School can't win the North Peninsula League basketball championsihp this year, but the Colts look like they may do the next best thing—finish in the runnerup spot.

They moved into a tie for that position last Friday with a 50-48 victory over Westmoor High School at South San Francisco. El Camino trailed most of the game until Micky Ackley scored with 2:33 left to tie it at 47-47 and then hit with a jumper which put El Camino in front to stay. Dick Williams put the game on ice with a free throw in the last half minute of play.

El Camino trailed after one quarter, 14-12, and baskets by Joel Weinberg and Ken Liss gave the Rams a 19-14 lead, which they extended to 25-20. Buckets by Liss and Don Lippi gave Westmoor a 29-22 halftime margin.

"Westmoor played a fine game," said Colts' Coach Warren Hagberg, "It's just that they got a little cold late in the game."

Westmoor hit 53 per cent in the first half while dropping to 23 per cent in the seocnd half.

At the start of the third quarter, a three-point play by Gordon Sanoff sparked a Colt rally that evened the game at 30-30 with 4:30 left. But a pair of free throws by Liss put Westmoor back in front. The Rams built it to 39-33, before the end of the third period. Then two free throws by Corky Phelps extended Westmoor's lead to 43-35. Two quick jumpers by Ackley narrowed it to 43-41, and Westmoor went ahead by six points on a pair of layups by Phelps.

Wednesday, the Colts routed Oceana, 76-41.

The two teams had fought out the first quarter on near-even terms, with the Sharks only trailing by one, 18-17, as the buzzer sounded.

But that was as close as the Sharks were able to come for the rest of the afternoon. A Colt fast break, spearheaded by Williams and Sanoff, rocked Oceana nearly out of the gym as the Colts outscored them, 20-6 in the eight-minute span to roll to a 38-23 half-time advantage.

The class B contest gave the host Colts a sweep as they downed the Shark lights, 49-40.

Westlake Bowl

THIS IS "Physical Fitness Week" at Westlake Bowl as five new groups are forming with two purposes in mind: First, to stay physically fit, and, secondly, to have sufficient games for an average in the 1966 Bluebook. There are spots available in all groups by calling PL 6-5777.

Bob Hood again had a large audience in the Sleepers' League as he rolled a great 705 series on games of 194-277 and 234. Dot Bolton and Ron Raeta were the high rollers in the Westlake Wedlocks League, Dot shooting 174—477 and Ron a big 211 game and 608 series.

Our junior bowlers have a current "on to Anaheim" project, which will find them competing in the California State Junior Championships July 9 and 10. Present plans are to charter a bus and include tours to Disneyland and Knott's Berry Farm in the tour. To help finance the trip, the boys and girls have a number of fund-raising operations under way, including a car wash, firewood sale, desk pen set sale and raffle.

Jack Quinn led the Bankers' League for the week with a 211 game and 582 series. Clem Larson set a new high game record in the Misfits' League as she rolled a terrific 240 game. Opal Richards took high series honors for the ladies while George Kaminsky topped the men with 188—548.

MARY LOU BILLMAN continued her high rolling as she topped the Ladies' Invitational League with a 199 game and 542 series. Midge Burns celebrated her 25th anniversary by taking high series in the A-1 Nursery League with an even 500. Maxine Sweat shot high game of 214.

Blue Chip stamps continue to provide the big attraction as over 200 bowlers were on hand for the Saturday and Sunday night Blue Chip Bonanzas. Herb Carr is making a habit of being a league leader. He topped the men in the Wednesday Mixed Fives with 182—481, then led the B'nai B'rith Men's League with 213 and 592.

Canco League bowler of the week was Grant Hammock with a 188 game and 552 series. Joy Bipes was another double leader, topping the Holy Rollers with 218—566 and the Tea Timers with 180 and 510. In the Southwest Handicap League, Jim Britt was the week's leader with a 196 game and 564 series. Secretary Doris Arnott shot her first 200 game of the year in the Tuesday Rebels' League, a big 215, then continued on to a 538 series.

Padre Booters Win NPSL Title

The Serra High School soccer team annexed the Northern Peninsula Soccer League title last week by downing Woodside Priory, 3-1, on the latter's field.

A third quarter rally, spirited by goals by Mike Baldanado and Tom McEnnerney, paced the Padre win. Larry Francoeur tallied the first Serra goal, with Carlos Araujo getting the only Priory score.

Serra concluded its league season with a 6-1-1 mark.

Cow Palace Indoor Track Meet Honors Past, Present

Bud Winter, head track coach at San Jose State for 21 years, will be the honorary referee for the fourth annual Golden Gate Invitational Indoor track meet at the Cow Palace Friday night.

It is the first time the meet has recognized a contributor to track by having him honored as the meet's honorary referee.

Winter was an assistant coach of the 1960 U.S. Olympic team, former president of the American College of Track Coaches and has developed such fine stars as Hal Davis, Bob Likens, George Mattos, Ray Norton, Charley Clark, Dennis Johnson, Jeff Fishback, Ed Burke and Ben Tucker.

It was also announced that four Northern California giants will be inducted into the Northern California Track and Field Association in brief ceremonies during the Golden Gate meet.

All Souls Nips St. Veronica's

The All Souls fourth grade basketball team, paced by John McKeon, won the North Peninsula Catholic School League title last week with a 19-17 victory over crosstown rival St. Veronica's at the Southwood Junior High School gym.

CSM Assured Of 2nd Place Finish in GGC

The Bulldogs of the College Heights campus, who mentally eliminated themselves two weeks ago, were officially ushered to the sidelines in the Golden Gate Conference race last weekend as City College of San Francisco leveled Merritt College, 79-67, for its twelfth straight win and the GGC title.

However, CCSF's victory failed to remove the lustre of the Bulldog's 85-77 victory over arch-rival Foothill last night before a near-capacity crowd at the College Heights' plush roundball palace.

The victory, CSM's ninth in 12 starts, secured them at least a piece of second place in the 1966 GGC race.

CSM wasted no time in asserting its authority. Owney Williams hit a short jumper with 13:04 left in the first half to break a tie and put the Bulldogs in front for good, 16-14

The visiting Owls pulled to within three points on two other occasions late in the first half, but each time shots by Milky Johnson and Breck MacLaren spirited CSM safely beyond reach.

CSM coach Jack Avina, though happy with the victory, still wasn't satisfied with the performance.

"It was an easy going game," he stated. "We have turned into an offensive team and forgot our defense," Avina added. "I would like to win our final two games, but I don't know whether we can do it."

The Bulldog mentor, still unable to mask the disappointment over not winning the GGC title, singled out the play of MacLaren and Williams, saying that they "played very well."

Foothill, outmanned on the boards, tried desperately to stay with CSM in the first half. An underneath shot by John Saraceno with 4:45 remaining pulled Foothill to within three markers, 28-25. However, two free tosses by Jerry Donovan, a lazy jumper by Williams and a spectacular jumpshot by Milky vaulted CSM out to a six-point lead once again.

The Bulldogs kept from five and ten points between them and Foothill until there was 8:1½ left in the contest. At this juncture, with CSM leading, 67-59, Johnson, Jim Mason and Terry O'Brien led the hosts on a spree which produced eight points in two minutes to give CSM a 73-56 margin with six minutes left.

CSM Spring Sports Will Be Booming

Competition in an all-time record eight sports will be featured at College of San Mateo this spring.

While basketball and wrestling seasons run through mid-March, the spring sport season began Friday and Saturday with the annual CSM baseball tournament. Swimming season also started then with the Northern California Diving Relays at Foothill College.

Monday, the CSM faculty played the varsity tennis team to kickoff the net sport season.

Golf gets under way Friday. The Bulldog duffers journey to Almaden Country Club to meet San Jose City College in a Golden Gate Conference match.

Next day, San Mateo hosts American River JC for a practice track meet at 10 a.m.

Last spring team to enter competition will be gymnastics. The precision sport, new to CSM this year, will be coached by Sil Vial. Playing a "free lance" schedule, the Bulldog gymnasts kickoff an eight-meet slate March 18 at Sacramento City College.

In basketball, final GGC games are Friday (with CSM hosting San Jose CC), but any necessary playoffs will be held the following weekend. The State JC tournament, which CSM hosted last season, this year is slated for March 10 to 12 at Bakersfield College.

The State JC wrestling tournament will be held the same weekend at Fresno City College. Preceding the state-wide event are the Northern California Sectional at Chabot, March 5, and the GGC tournament at San Jose City College, February 25.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

ONE DAY last week my phone rang and it was one of my neighbors calling to tell me that she had tried out a new gelatin dessert recipe, that it was delicious and had made a generous amount which she wanted to share with my family. How's that for a good neighbor?

In five minutes she was at my door with this beautiful mold, which she handed me saying, "Give it a try and see if you like it." I gave it a try immediately and gave it a good second try when I served it to my family. We all agreed it was delicious, so I made it my business to get her recipe so that you good cooks could try this gem too.

As she noted, it makes a very generous amount and the soft, creamy topping really adds the right touch.

APRICOT DELIGHT

1 can apricots, cut up (2½ size)
1 can crushed pineapple (2½ size)
2 cups hot water
2 pkgs. orange gelatin
1 cup juice (drained from fruits)
three-fourths cup miniature marshmallows

Drain juice from apricots and pineapple. Cut up the apricots and combine with pintapple. Mix the gelatin and hot water together, stir until all the gelatin is dissolved. Add the combined juice of apricots and pineapple, (one cup of juice) and stir well.

Set the gelatin mixture aside to cool. When it is just syrupy blend in the pineapple, apricots and marshmallows. Pour into a large mold. Place in refrigerator to set.

TOPPING

½ cup granulated sugar
2 Tbsp. flour
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup remaining fruit juice
2 Tbsp. butter
1 cup whipping cream

Combine sugar, flour, egg and fruit juice in a sauce pan. Blend well and cook over low heat. (Keep an eye on this and stir frequently so it won't stick.) When this mixture has thickened add butter and set aside to cool completely.

Whip the cream and combine with the cooled topping. Serve over gelatin.

NOW THAT we've decided what would be good for dessert perhaps we'd better go back to the beginning of the meal and talk about an entree. This "delish dish" comes to us courtesy of Mrs. Blanche Long, who lives at 1586 47th Ave., San Francisco. Blanche says it has been a favorite of hers for many years and after tasting it you will place it in your favorite file, too.

This is one of those dream recipes. It uses an inexpensive cut of meat, is easy to fix and the result is a wonderful meal.

SWEET-SOUR SHORTRIBS

3 lbs. shortribs (The leaner the better)
salt, pepper, flour and shortening
1 cup sliced onions
1 clove garlic
1½ cups hotwater
1 bay leaf
¼ cup vinegar
3 Tbsp. brown sugar
one-third cup catsup

Have the shortribs cut into individual servings. Remove excess fat. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. (Or do it the easy way, combine salt, pepper and flour in a paper bag and shake the shortribs in the bag.) Brown well on all sides in a large skillet in several tablespoons of shortening or other fat. Remove to Dutch oven or other large heavy pan with a tight fitting cover.

Cook onions and chopped garlic in fat until soft; add to shortribs. Combine water, bayleaf, vinegar, brown sugar and catsup. Add ½ teaspoon salt and pour over ribs.

Cover tightly and cook over heat until tender, 2½ to 3 hours. Remove ribs to serving platter and keep warm. Pour most of the fat from the drippings, stir in 2 tablespoons flour and enough water to dilute to strength desired. Cook until thickened.

Serve shortribs and gravy over hot buttered noodles. Serves 6.

I MIGHT ADD that shortribs and gravy is delicious over mashed potatoes or rice, too. They are so good they go with any kind of starch.

Mixing note: Whenever the recipe calls for flour and water to thicken a gravy, I combine the flour and water in a jar with a lid and shake it hard to blend the two. Then I add it, stirring as I pour it into the hot gravy, and cook until thickened.

Award Presented By CSM Patrons

Mrs. Christopher Garland of Redwood City is the recipient of the 1966 honorary life membership award of the College of San Mateo Patrons Association.

Mrs. Garland, recording secretary of the organization, was tendered the P-TA honor at the Parents' Founders' Day tea held on the campus.

A member and officer of the Patrons since 1963, Mrs. Garland has remained active in the association even though her daughter, Lorrie, has completed her studies at CSM.

Mrs. George Roesch of San Carlos, Patrons president, welcomed guests at the tea and introduced two former association advisors who participated in a program tracing the group's history.

The Abraham Lincoln P-TA presented two Honorary Life Membership Awards at its last meeting.

The first recipient was Mrs. Kay Bollendonk, kindergarten teacher at Abraham Lincoln School.

During her 25 years of teaching, she has done much to enrich the lives of children.

Mrs. Bollendonk has worked on child study programs, is secretary treasurer of the Teachers Co-ordinating Committee, has worked tirelessly when asked by the P-TA, has put on puppet shows for students, and is serving as historian of the unit this year.

She also spent 10 years as a children's librarian. Mrs. Bollendonk is the mother of a son and a daughter, and the grandmother of four.

The second award was presented to Mrs. Harold Faulkner, one of the unit's most valuable workers.

Mrs. Faulkner has served in nearly every P-TA capacity.

She is active in Lakeside Presbyterian Church, teaching Sunday school, vacation Bible school, and providing transportation for children wishing to attend church classes.

Her home is used to entertain Foreign Exchange Students, and she has provided housing for students from State College.

Mrs. Faulkner is the mother of three active boys, and has served as den mother for eight Cub Scouts.

These figures are reported by the organizations.

The association said it must raise the remaining $163,000 by the end of the orchestra's season in May.

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

AFTER LOSING most of a week to that old villain, the flu bug, I feel slightly disoriented but here goes an attempt to cover this week's news!

The North County School unification proposal will be the subject of discussion when the Pacifica Unit, League of Women Voters of San Mateo, meet on March 9.

According to Mrs. Albert V. Haven, this will be the second in a two part series on the subject which may reach the voters as early as June. The meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. in St. Edmund's Episcopal Church in the Linda Mar section of Pacifica and the public is invited to attend. Mrs. Haven emphasized that a baby-sitter is provided so mothers of the youngest set may still attend.

The Pacifica unit has shown spectacular growth and vitality in the three years since it was founded by a dynamic handful of seven women.

Today, there are 25 active members and the unit is eagerly striving toward the day when it may achieve independent status. Hopes for this were given a boost during this past month when the League State Board of Directors gave their approval for a new North County League.

The structuring of the new North County league is now under way and representatives from Pacifica, San Bruno, Daly City and South San Francisco are meeting to begin organizational procedures.

Mrs. William Feeney, unit chairman; Mrs. Walfred Fassler, unit finance chairman and Mrs. David Eolkin and Mrs. Bernard Hyman represent the Pacifica contingent.)

According to Mrs. Haven, to be a self sustaining body it is recommended that a unit have a membership of approximately 100. The Pacifica group still falls short of such a goal but a campaign is under way to encourage community members to attend league unit meetings and explore the possibility of membership in the group, which tries to encourage voter education, research and development of political insight.

The league is a non-partisan organization whose purpose is to encourage citizens to take a part in their government. Among its services to voters are non-partisan candidates' nights, registration of voters, distribution of pro and con material on ballot issues, and it publishes fact sheets on various aspects of the government. The units of the league take action in support of or in opposition to all issues that have been studied, but does not support or oppose particular candidates or political parties. Women interested in more information are urged to contact Mrs. John Getas, at 355-0456, for more information.

Surprise Family With Novel Entree

Surprise the family with a novel dinner entree, just when they begin to think they can guess what you're going to have.

Barbecued Lamb Shanks have the flavor everyone likes as well as the color appeal that only ruddy-red sauce, well browned meat and snowy mounds of white rice can give.

Lamb shanks, once called trotters, contain shank bones, layers of meat, all covered with the thin paper-like substance called "fell" which is associated with lamb. This "fell" need not be removed. It helps the cut keep its shape during the long, slow cooking period.

Barbecued Lamb Shanks

- 6 lamb shanks
- ¼ cup enriched flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1 cup catchup
- 3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1 cup water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon red pepper
- 3 cups hot, cooked rice

Dredge lamb shanks in seasoned flour. Brown slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over lamb shanks. Cover and simmer until tender, about 2 hours. Serve over rice, Six servings.

Frankfurter Pie Topped With Biscuits

Casserole cooks will be delighted with a dish that gives them meat, vegetables and biscuits all in one!

Frankfurter circles, green beans and corn combine with the teens favorite seasonings of chili sauce and grated cheese to form the base for this supper dish. More frankfurters go into the drop biscuits to make them interesting.

Use a hot oven for this casserole to bake the biscuits. At the same time all the ingredients which go into the mixture will have a chance to heat through for piping hot service.

Since this casserole contains frankfurters, two vegetables and the biscuit topping, what should be served with it? A fruit salad either of citrus or fresh fruits in season would be ideal. Have this as well chilled as the casserole is hot. If you prefer, a molded salad goes well, too, and may be made in advance.

Biscuit topping for the casserole starts with a classic or basic biscuit recipe, making use of lard. The lard may be taken directly from the refrigerator since it works readily into the dry ingredients.

Grated American cheese along with the frankfurters, sliced thinner than for the casserole, carries out the theme for this dish. It also sharpens the effect of ingredients already used in the main dish.

Frankfurter Biscuit Pie

- 6 frankfurters, sliced
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
- ¼ cup enriched flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups milk
- ¼ cup grated American cheese
- ¼ cup chili sauce
- 1 cup canned or cooked green beans
- ½ cup canned or cooked whole kernel corn.

Frankfurter Biscuits

Melt lard or drippings in frying-pan, add frankfurters and onions and brown lightly. Stir in flour, salt and milk; cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add cheese, chili sauce, green beans and corn. Pour into 8-inch square baking dish. Make Frankfurter Biscuits and drop by spoonfuls on mixture. Bake in a hot oven (425 deg. F.) 30 to 35 minutes. 4 to 6 servings.

Frankfurter Biscuits

- 1½ cups sifted enriched flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup grated American cheese 7
- 2 frankfurters, sliced about ¼ inch thick
- ¾ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in lard until mixture has a fine even crumb. Add cheese and frankfurters and mix lightly. Add milk and stir until flour is well moistened.

Keep the frankfurter biscuit recipe on hand for times when you want a quick, meaty biscuit just to go with a soup or salad. This interesting hot bread is an excellent way to get more protein in a hot bread.

Biscuits with frankfurters will not take as long to bake as the casserole. Use a 450 deg. F. oven, giving them approximately 12 to 15 minutes.

Present the Food At 'Winning Best'

Families aren't always to blame for not liking foods "that are good for them."

Sometimes homemakers, through disinterest or lack of know-how, simply have not presented the food at its winning best.

One famous example is liver. Often it hasn't been served in some homes. Sometimes, though served, it's come to the table dried, the result of cooking at too high a temperature for too long a time.

Temperatures should be low, cooking it slowly. A popular sauce idea used with other cuts has been borrowed and changed to fit this recipe.

To avoid curdling, just fold in sour cream as directed, not cooking, only heating through.

Liver a la Stroganoff

1½ pounds beef or pork liver, sliced ½ inch thick
¼ cup flour
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 small onions, sliced ¼ inch thick
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces
1 tablespoon flour
2 teaspoons vinegar
¼ teaspoon dill seed
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup dairy sour cream
6 slices cooked bacon

Dredge liver with flour. Brown lightly on each side in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Drain mushrooms and save liquid. Add onions and mushrooms. Cover and cook slowly 15 minutes. Remove liver, add 1 tablespoon flour, mushroom liquid, vinegar, dill seed and salt to pan in which liver was cooked. Simmer 5 minutes. Fold in sour cream, stirring constantly, until heated through. Serve sauce over liver. Top with bacon slices. Six servings.

Mincemeat Coffeecake Refresher

Here's a mincemeat coffeecake that's an evening refresher.

MINCEMEAT COFFEE CAKE

½cup milk, scalded
1 1-3 cups sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup applesauce
¼ cup warm water
1 package active dry yeast
1 egg
4½ cups (about) unsifted flour
Mincemeat filling

Into the scalded milk stir the sugar, salt, butter and applesauce; cool to lukewarm. Dissolve the yeast in the warm water; stir in lukewarm milk mixture, egg and half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in more flour, enough to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board; knead until plastic—about 8 minutes. Place in greased bowl; turn to grease top. Cover; let rise in draft-free warm place until doubled—about 1 hour. Punch down dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and divided in half. Roll one half into a 14 by 7 inch rectangle. Brush with extra melted butter and spread with half the mincemeat filling. Roll up from long side; seal edges. Repeat with remaining half of dough and mincemeat filling. Place sealed edges down in greased tube cake pans. Seal ends together. Cover; let rise as before until doubled—about 1 hour. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 25 minutes. Brush with extra melted butter. Makes two coffeecake rings.

Mincemeat Filling: Into a small saucepan, turn 1 package (9 ounces) condensed mincemeat, ¾ cup water and 1 tablespoon sugar. Bring to a boil, stirring to break up mincemeat. Boil 3 minutes. Stir in ¾ cup chopped pecans. Cool before using as directed above.

Harmonious Sweetbreads

When you want to use ham "and something else," try sweet breads. This delicately flavored, white or cream-colored variety meat is perfect with ham either broiled, creamed, or in a salad.

Sweetbreads which are very fragile need to be precooked in water to firm them for easier handling. Since they're also highly perishable, it is best to precook them after purchasing if they are to be served the following day.

Bean Relish Salad Platter Interesting

A bean relish salad platter for a late evening meal is interesting and different.

Baked Ham Scalloped Potatoes

BEAN RELISH SALAD PLATTER

1 tablespoon mayonnaise
2 tablespoons prepared yellow mustard
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) red kidney beans, drained
3 large ribs celery, diced
1 small onion, finely chopped
1-3 cup diced sweet pickle
Salad greens, sliced cucumber, green pepper strips, hard-cooked egg (sliced)

In a bowl, stir together the mayonnaise, mustard, curry powder, salt and pepper. Mix in the kidney beans, celery, onion and pickle. Turn out on a platter and garnish with remaining ingredients.

Try Panned Lamb Chops

Try a new tack with those lovely lamb chops in the local markets.

Panned Lamb Chops
Mashed Potatoes
Lemon Broccoli Salad Bowl
Fresh Fruit and Cheese

PANNED LAMB CHOPS

4 baby rib lamb chops, ½-inch thick
¼ teaspoon each salt, garlic salt and paprika

Trim fat from around chops so there is only a thin layer left. On wax paper, with a small spatula, mix together the seasonings. Using spatula, spread over chops. Slowly heat an 8- or 9-inch iron skillet until extremely hot; grease with a little butter. Add chops and over moderate heat, brown on both sides; reduce heat and cook to desired doneness—this will take 7 to 10 minutes per side, depending on whether the chops are to be pink inside or well done. To brown fat around edges, at end of cooking, prop them up around sides of pan. Makes two servings.

Cheddar Is Concentrated

Because Cheddar cheese is a concentrated food, it is generally used in relatively small amounts. A half pound or even less of cheese is considered adequate for 4 servings. Then other protein-rich foods are added to the meal or included in the cheese dish to increase the protein content. These might include milk and eggs as for a souffle, fondue or omelet.

Picturephone, Laser Beam Set for Skyline Exhibit

Pacific Telephone Company's scientific ephibits trailer will play a return engagement in Daly City Friday.

A big success with shoppers at Westlake two weeks ago, the traveling exhibit will be open between 1 to 6 and 7 to 9 p.m. in the Skyline Plaza Shopping Center.

Inside the 60-foot trailer are displays including the picturephone, laser beams, space and defense communications, telephones of the past and future, and a description of how television programs are transmitted.

Tours of the mobile unit will be conducted by Tina Drescher and Dana Murphy. Victor McPhun of Daly City is the manager of the trailer.

In addition to the displays and exhibits during the afternoon, the telephone company has announced that it will hold open house from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in its new North County employment office, 100 Skyline Plaza, with refreshments for the public.

Those Forms For Medicare

Medicare enrollment forms can now be obtained at all Daly City post offices, it has been announced by Everett M. Eaton, district manager of the San Francisco (Mission) District Office of Social Security.

Vincent P. Murphy, Daly City Postmaster, said the forms will be available to all residents of the area as a public service, according to Eaton.

Sixty-five-year-old persons who fail to enroll for Medicare by the March 31 deadline will not have another opportunity to sign up until October, 1967, he explained.

Rotary Club Plans to Mark Anniversary of Founding

Today the Rotary Club of Daly City observes the sixty-first anniversary of the founding of Rotary.

This day is shared by the neighboring Clubs in Pacifica, South San Francisco and San Francisco.

Rotary was founded on February 23, 1905, in Chicago, Illinois. The San Francisco Club was the second Rotary group founded.

John Wuerthner, president of the Daly City club, states that "The celebration of this occasion is global in scope, for there are more than 12,200 Rotary clubs and 581,500 Rotarians in 131 countries. Thus, Rotary meetings marking this occasion will be held in many languages, including Arabic, Burmese, Flemish, Gaelic, Korean, Japanese, and Persian."

The Daly City Rotary Club observes this anniversary of the founding of what is now Rotary International at its regular Wednesday luncheon meeting today held in the Friar Room of the Serra Bowl.

The 56 local members represent various business and professional men who live or work in the local community.

A cross-section of the city's civic, commercial, governmental and religious life is represented.

Basis for membership began with the first club and has continued through the years to become a major characteristic of the Rotary organization. Vocational speeches are given by the members and guest speakers are heard in this area.

Greater appreciation is given through mutual understanding of one's work as an opportunity for service to the community, nation and world.

This is borne out by the mention of past Rotary Club Presidents: Jack Kendree, Julian Cohn, Louis Minkin, Bob Watson, Herb Sharpe, Ted Harris, Vinton Stratton, George Riba, Paul Hupf and others who have moved away.

BETTER BUSINESS

Bureau Criticizes Gas-Save Device

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

THE BETTER Business Bureau has for years conducted a constant campaign to protect the automobile owner from elaborate promotions "too good to be true."

Most of these promotions have two common elements: (1) The product is easy to install. The purchaser does not have to be mechanically inclined. (2) A refund is cheerfully refunded if the customer is dissatisfied with the product.

Louis Enricht remains the most colorful promoter in this field. Nearly 50 years ago he startled the world with the announcment that he had made gasoline a thing of the past with his secret formula.

He gave demonstrations, filling the tank of his test car with water and pouring in a little of the secret formula, a greenish liquid. He managed to impress several experts, including Henry Ford and representatives of both the British Army and German Navy.

The Maxim Munitions Corporation announced it was buying Enricht's invention for a million dollars.

The deal mysteriously fell through and later, a disallusioned backer legally forced Enricht to open his safe-deposit box in which he said the formula and greenish liquid was kept and found it to be empty.

THERE NEVER has been a shortage of myths in spite of the fact that products and formulas fail to live up to their miraculous claims.

A firm in 1965 is reputed to have grossed $1.5 million dollars by direct advertising to the automobile owner who cannot resist the latest thing in miracles for his motor.

The Bureau has received numerous calls regarding a gasoline saving device, "Unitron," distributed by the Sperry Dynamics Corporation.

The Sperry Rand Corporation has taken legal steps to end the use of this entirely unrelated enterprise. The promotion has continued under the signature "Penn-Owens Incorporated, Division of Universal Dynamics Corporation.

The direct mailing advertising under Penn-Owens is almost identical to that of Sperry Dynamics Corporation, except that some material has been added to the mailings — seeking independent distributors who, ordering in volume, can allegedly earn up to $50 a day in their spare time "without risking a penny."

THE MOST frequently expressed dissatisfaction with this enterprise, under both names, is that "Unitron" is not a device, as the advertising implies, but a 6½-ounce can of fluid and a small plastic filter that must be inserted into the gas line where it leads to the carbureator.

Instructions call for putting one capful of the fluid into the filter prior to permanent installation of the filter into the gas line, then pouring four ounces into the gas tank and two ounces into the oil crankcase.

As it is then necessary to add one ounce for each five gallons of gasoline, one must purchase additional cans at $1.50 for the single container, or $1 each by the dozen, to enjoy the savings claimed for the product.

Once the purchaser has shortened his gas line to insert the filter, a return of the product for a refund requires the purchase of a new gas line.

THE BETTER Business Bureau, in its efforts to combat deceptive advertising, takes the position that the advertiser must be given an opportunity to substantiate his claims.

Only when his claims are proven false and only when the advertiser refuses to withdraw them, does the bureau ask the Post Office Department or some other agency, to take official action.

The promoters of "Unitron" have not provided the Better Business Bureau any proof for these savings claims. The complaints against this enterprise under both names have come from:

(1) Those who failed to receive the ordered merchandise and received no replies to their inquiries.

(2) Those who, having received the merchandise and found it not to be as advertised, sent it back and did not receive guaranteed refund.

(3) Those who used the two components of the "Unitron" and obtained no gas savings.

Coast Plans A Cleanup

In the wake of complaints to the Pacifica City Council about dirty residential areas, trash littered lots, and refuse on beaches, the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce has been asked to designate April 16 to 23 as Pacifica Clean-up Week.

Also supporting the program will be the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Coastside Board of Realtors.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Bernard Lake said that Boy Scouts will be enlisted to clean beaches and area improvement clubs will be asked to assume responsibility for neighborhood cleaning, painting and repairing.

Participation of schools also will be encouraged, Lake said. Students would tidy up school grounds.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

After eating food containing sugar or carbohydrates, acid begins forming in your mouth. You should brush your teeth within fifteen minutes after eating before the acid has a chance to damage the enamel.

Use a tooth brush with a small head. Take time: Give the toothpaste a chance to work.

Brush down on upper teeth. Brush up on lower teeth. Force bristles into spaces between the teeth while brushing inner and outer surfaces.

Use scrubbing motion when brushing the chewing surfaces.

If you cannot brush your teeth after eating, you should rinse your mouth thoroughly with water.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit the practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

A Paradox In Crime Reports

CAREFUL readers will not have failed to notice a current and curious paradox with respect to crime in San Mateo County. On a recent day, the district attorney reported a 21 per cent increase in the number of prosecutions for felonies during 1965; two days later the final report of the 1965 Grand Jury noted some improvement in the public attitude toward law enforcement in the county.

Odd as this may seem, the two reports are not necessarily incompatible. What they indicate is a rising crime rate despite the efforts of law enforcement officers to meet the problem of troubled areas and an improvement in public support of police activities.

The report by the district attorney is by no means unexpected. It only bears out, on a local basis, what the FBI said several months ago, namely that the heaviest uptrend of crime is to be found in areas such as the Peninsula — described by the FBI as "suburban."

WHAT IS CAUSE for worry is the fact that the district attorney said that the rate of crime increase experienced here is comparable to the normal rise in the county. If the population had grown at the same rate in a single year a numerical rise in the number of felony cases would be understandable.

But with all the "population explosion" there has not been a 21 per cent increase in the number of persons in the county in one year. It is the number of felony prosecutions that have gone up to this degree.

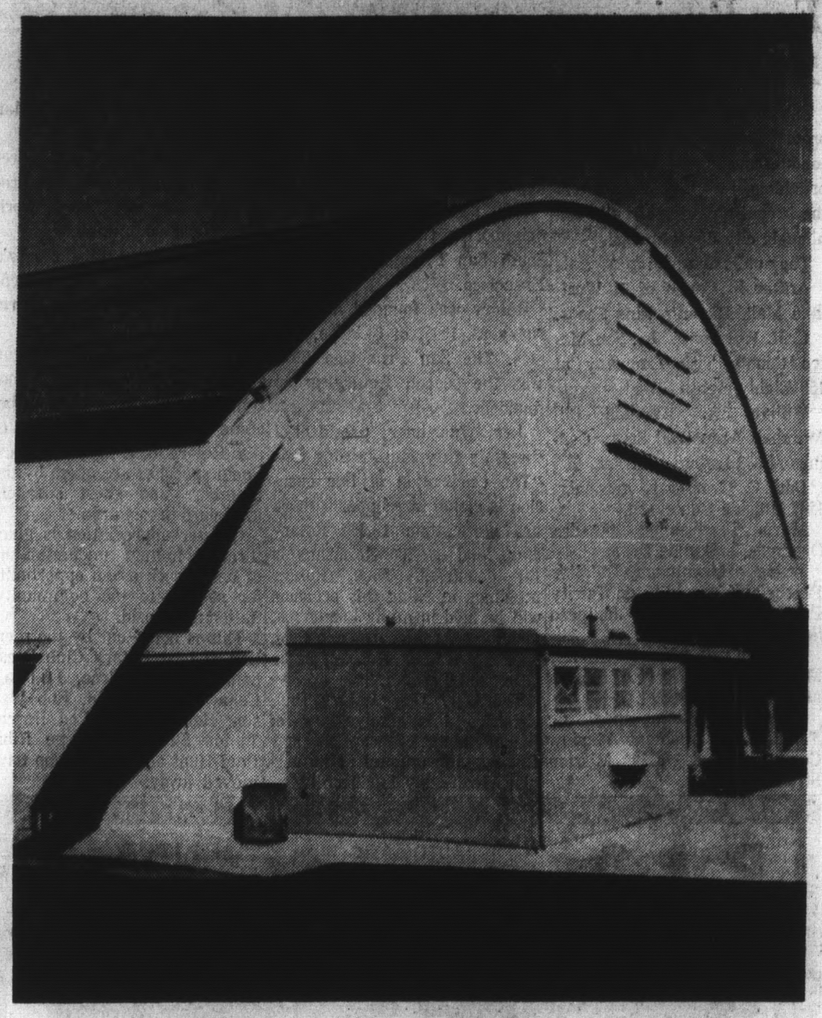
If this is normal, particularly at a time when public support for law enforcement is gaining and police are making headway in the trouble areas, something is seriously awry.

The rise in the number of prosecutions shows that the police are making the arrests and the criminal suspects are being brought to trial, but this does not seem to have a deterrent effect on the crime rate.

IT IS MUCH too easy to generalize and say we are showing a breakdown in morality and that we are becoming less law-abiding. There must be a way of pinpointing the difficulty more closely and of dealing with it effectively.

We are going to have to find out what is wrong and act to correct it. The implications of an annual increase of 20 per cent in San Mateo County's crime rate, over the period of coming years, are frightening.

S.S.F. High School



SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO High School's present plant was opened in 1952 at 400 B Street. Previously, the high school had been housed in a building at Spruce and Miller Avenues, which has become Spruce Elementary School. Enrollment at the high school is 1,850 students, compared to 550 in 1952. The school was designed for a capacity of 1,550. Next year, both the school and El Camino High School will become senior high schools. Ninth grades will be housed in three junior high schools. The principal of South San Francisco High School is Louis Bagnall, who has served in that capacity since 1947. The high school will graduate its fiftieth anniversary class in June.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDIOR:

After attending the last meeting of the Jefferson Union High School District Board, and hearing the report of the Citizens' School Attendance Boundary Committee, I must confess I was left with more questions than I was furnished answers.

Perhaps, others share my concern and interest.

1. Since any boundary changes would affect the homeowners in Westlake Unit One, the Estates and the Olympia section, why were none of these areas represented on the committee?

2. Since the committee was admittedly instructed not to discuss its formation or function with "even your neighbors," one can only assume that the committee does not represent homeowners east of Junipero Serra Boulevard either.

3. The committee listened to the president of the Jefferson High School Students Council, but did not at Westmoor, or permit them to have a voice. Why?

The conclusion is obvious: If Jefferson High students and parents were not questioned or consulted, whom does this committee represent?

Whose sentiments does it reflect? How can a committee meeting in private decide on a matter affecting the general public, or consider itself a consensus?

How can this group come into the boundary affected area and make wholesale recommendations that do not incorporate the views of the residents?

These are the same residents who have done so much to build Westlake into the community it is today.

MOST OF US moved here before Olympia, Vista Mar and Fernando Rivera Schools were built. Also there were no recreation areas or parks.

Consider this — our tax monies, our votes at the polls and many woman and man-hours expended circulating petitions were efforts made to insure a future for our children.

In its report, the committee observes our population to be deprived of "cultural richness and variety." Perhaps you can explain this point to me since the children of this "deprived population" have been enjoying the advantages of ethnic variety at Fernando Rivera School for the past four or five years.

Children east of Junipero Serra have been bused to Fernando Rivera from the Woodrow Wilson School in a program that has been accomplished with few problems and no objection from the parents of non-bused children.

(You might be interested, however, to learn that there are parents in the east of Junipero Serra community who also believe in the neighborhood school system, who are opposed to busing their children out of the home community.

Again I must ask, whom does this committee represent? Whose sentiments does it reflect? Does the committee consider itself consensus?)

NOW ALL we ask is to leave our children near their homes, with their friends, in the schools we have worked so hard for.

When the problem of overcrowding has been solved, that is the time to bus others in — as it is being done on the elementary level—with no objections from resident parents.

But, to bus ours out to bring others in is a plan that just does not make sense.

Mrs. Donald S. Piercy,
154 Northgate Avenue,
Daly City.

To the Editor:

On Monday, February 7, in response to a Citizens Boundary Study Committee, there were several malicious and vicious statements made about Jefferson High School.

The school itself, the students and the education at Jefferson were criticized as being "scum," "second class," "poor," "trash," etc.

The undersigned teachers are irate at these scandalous, untrue statements and directly challenge anyone to prove that the quality of education at Jefferson is inferior to that of any other school in the district, or for that matter, any school in the state.

As professional people, we respond with a deep pride in what we are doing with a student body as fine as any on the Peninsula.

Our faculty and administration have worked hard in every respect to create an atmosphere conducive to good, sound educational pursuits.

Our curriculum is designed and our teachers are recruited with the thought of providing an ample opportunity for all of our students to achieve regardless of their economic backgrounds.

We are coming to grips with the problem we do have and we are working on solutions that are educationally sound.

To the crucifiers and the "prophets of doom" of the Jefferson High School educational program, we offer an open invitation to come down and see a real school in action.

Dion Dubois
Ralph Galloway
(For The Jefferson Teachers)

To the Editor:

As a parent of two boys who attend Jefferson High School, I would like to express my reaction to the citizens (boundary study committee) meeting held Monday, February 7, 1966.

Why this feeling of superiority on the part of residents of the Westlake area. Aren't these the same people who not too long ago came from outlying areas?

Does the fact that they live in supposedly better housing make them better people?

There is an old adage, "By their deeds, we shall know them." I would say their reactions are very narrow and bigoted.

When they say "minority," what do they mean — a minority of what!

Every organization has a few undesired — schools, government or otherwise. Have these same people ever taken time out to investigate the fine teachers and the majority of fine students at Jefferson?

If a child is interested in education, he will learn in spite of any opposition. This is up to him.

A fine school building in a more desirable area does not make learning any less easy or difficult.

Our country is now going through a great Civil Rights movement — also a fair employment movement.

Throughout history, many minority races have migrated to this country — the Italians, the Puerto Ricans, the Irish, the Jewish — and suffered great persecution.

Are these the same people condemning others of the so-called "Minority" fighting for the same principles for which they are still fighting?

The Bible makes reference to the good samaritan. Let us show that we too can be good samaritans.

Let us raise our children in a manner that we can be proud and in a world where we can all live in harmony.

They'll Break Down the Doors

Don Miller

IF LAST WEEK'S program can be used as a guide, the next time Daly City decides to combine its annual Youth in Government Week luncheon with a regular chamber of commerce meeting, they'll be breaking down the doors and scrambling through the windows to get into the place.

That is to say, the joint program they held in Val's Redwood Room Restaurant Thursday must be logged in as one of the funniest gatherings in recent Daly City history and you can almost hear some of the participants still laughing around town.

Perhaps it was the fortuitous combination of Hizzoner, Mayor Frank Pacelli of Daly City, and John Wuerthner of Systematic Savings, subbing for Ed Morgan, the chamber's president, at the head table that gave the festivities the touch of hilarity at the start that prevailed the rest of the way.

These two gentlemen, as any of you who have ever witnessed them preside at a civic function will attest, are past masters at the fine art of gentle needling. And the needle was wielded in deft fashion Thursday.

PACELLI, acting as master of ceremonies, launched the luncheon on a light note when, referring to the Jefferson and Westmoor High School students around the banquet table, he remarked:

"These kids are full of pep and energy. They tell us where we have erred and where we were wrong and it's refreshing to have this coming from them instead of our wives and the city manager."

Hizzoner then introduced Wuerthner, who had been ill, and kidded him with references to having to resort to special medicines to get him to the luncheon.

But Pacelli reserved his neatest needle for a few moments later after Wuerthner told chamber members present that any chamber business for the day had been suspended. A photographer at this point stood up in the middle of the aisle facing the speaker's table and as he adjusted his camera equipment, Pacelli interrupted with:

"For your information, John, that gentleman happens to be our police photographer." (Charlie Maschinot).

When the laughter had ebbed, Wuerthner gamely came back with:

"Don't I get a rebuttal to that?"

Pacelli: "John, I'M the mayor."

WELL, AS WE said at the outset, that exchange set the keynote and just about everybody—city officials and students—had something witty to say for the remainder of the luncheon.

The program called for each city official and councilman to introduce the student who was enacting his role for the Youth in Government Week.

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi got up to introduce his student counterpart and after admitting he was slightly biased about it all because his student was from Jefferson, Petrocchi's alma mater, the chief quipped:

"I'd like to introduce the only Bias police chief in the nation who can get away with it (bias)." The student (quiet, you Jeff students you know what's coming) was Jefferson's Bob Bias.

Next on the introduction line was Finance Director Joe Arch who said that he was learning a lot about computers from his student counterpart, Greg McHugh of Westmoor, and he warned councilmen that because of this, they'd better "look out" in the next budget.

City Librarian Sam Chandler brought down the house with the observation that "at this time of the year, we always have a better-looking librarian than at any other time."

And after he finished introducing his student, pretty Sue Ertola of Westmoor, his reasoning was obvious.

CHUCK VINCENT, recreation director, was next, and he prefaced his introduction of Kim Nobles of Westmoor by joking that Kim had been proposing an ambitious program of city golf courses and swimming pools.

Which prompted Pacelli, with an expression of mock pain on his face, to chortle: "I was going to say if anyone wants to get up and speak—to go ahead and do so but if THAT'S going to be the trend, they can forget it."

City Manager Ed Frank then introduced Mike Vasquez of Westmoor and after commenting that Mike had told him he was "seriously considering cutting down the budget and reducing the tax rate," Mike replied:

"With these golf courses and swimming pools, this is going to be a tough job."

Councilman Albert Polonsky got a big guffaw when he introduced his student counterpart, Marty Craig of Jefferson, with the comment: "I'd like to introduce Marty Craig who has led me to believe that the power of the woman's tongue is greater than any substance today."

Replied Marty with that "powerful" tongue: "I finally realized that our city isn't all that wonderful but our councilmen are trying to help. I'd like to thank Mr. Polonsky because he's showed me all the faults."

Councilman Bud Lycett, his face wreathed in a big grin, observed that his student, Marvin Rance of Jefferson, "is going to follow a career in medicine." And he added:

"I'll vouch for this because the way Marvin has dissected and bisected me this week, he's going to be a beauty."

ALTHOUGH the proceedings were largely humorous, the idea behind Youth in Government Week was serious and there wasn't anyone in the room who wasn't aware of that.

Councilman Mickey DeBernardi probably summed up the way all of his fellow councilment and city department heads felt toward the interest and enthusiasm the students had shown when he remarked of his student counterpart, Jeff Thomas of Westmoor:

"I must admit that the gentleman who has been with me this past week has shown a great deal of intelligence, depth and a great deal of wanting to know what's going on."

And that, we think you'll agree, is what the whole program is all about.

The Marquee

'Superman' To Be Staged

Barbara Bladen

NOW DON'T ACT so surprised: "The Ten Commandments" will be released for Easter. This will be the 1957 version, not Cecil B. DeMille's 1925 classic.

"Batman" has brought millions of jaded television viewers back in front of their sets on a regular twice a week basis. Hard to explain, but a fact. Not one to be left behind for long, Broadway will have "It's a Bird . . . It's a Plane . . . It's Superman." The musical is set for March 29 at the Alvin Theatre and will be the first show and theatre to lower its prices in accordance with an extensive report by attorney John F. Wharton on the trouble with the legitimate theatre.

Some shows start out as musicals, others end up that way. "Wildcat," was a vehicle for Lucille Ball a few years back on Broadway. Now it's been revamped as a musical film for Ann-Margret.

From Columbia Pictures also comes a report that they will film three other current Broadway hits, "Luv" and "Cactus Flower" (starring Lauren Bacall in the stage version) and "A Man for All Seasons."

NO OFFENSE MEANT: "The Spooks" is a movie being made about postal inspectors. The title comes from an underworld term for the inspectors who work in total anonymity.

Walt Disney will combine the play, "The Happiest Millionaire" (a delightful comedy which starred Walter Pidgeon) and its original book "My Philadelphia Father," and turn it into a musical film with songs by Richard and Robert Sherman, who made the Mary Poppins tunes household words.

"Super Hippie" is the name of a new musical written, not by Tom Wolfe or Ken Kesey, as you might guess, but Jill Schary, daughter of Dore Schary.

Two more musical films from the Broadway stage include "Our Town" and "Bloomer Girl" starring Shirley MacLaine. There is talk of a musical version of "The Fourposter," with possible casting to include Mary Martin and Robert Preston. It will be a David Merrick production entitled "I Do, I Do."

GREER GARSON, who spends at least six months of the year on a ranch in Santa Fe operated by her husband, Buddy Fogelson, was honored a few years ago when her name was given the community center in the nearby town of Pecos. Now the performing arts center at the College of Santa Fe has named their new $900,000 complex after her.

Columbia Records will release the show album of the Hebrew edition of "Oliver." It has been staged by Peter Coe, who did both the original London and Broadway productions.

The roles of Fagin and the children will all be Jewish for the Tel Aviv Theatre production but the word "Twist" has been deleted from all promotional advertising of the Dicken's story so that Israeli teen-agers won't mistake it for a dance show.

LLOYDS OF LONDON used to figure prominently in the theatrical columns because of their frequent insuring of famous stars, their lives and limbs. The directors are considering the latest publicity-minded request from Director Stanley Kubrick, who wants insurance against "the discovery of extra-terrestrial beings" prior to 1967 when his M-G-M road show attraction "2001: A Space Odyssey," is released.

What to Read During the Flu

Samuel Chandler

IT IS ON the cover of Life Magazine, 2½ million times larger than life: The flu germ that is bothering everyone, that little creature that Ralph Waldo Emerson found at war in his bowels.

Life's article, entitled "The Virus' Enemy," is a report of the growth of a branch of medicine known as immunology.

A generation ago, the article reports, few scientists could have visualized a virus so precisely that pictures of it could be drawn and models created. The authors, Robert Campbell and Nancy Genet, call the discoveries of the immunologists a masterpiece of international sleuthing. As a result, man is nearer to conquering an enemy that has created plagues since time began.

So if you are among the thousands of people who are suffering from the flue, or a February sore throat, or just a cold, here's an article to cheer you up. Maybe next year will be different.

IF YOUR FEVERED fancy seeks something else, try "The Moon Is Shining Bright as Day," which is an anthology of good-humored verse. The editor, lovable humorist Ogden Nash, here presents 175 rhymes that he enjoyed as a child.

"Few of the poems," he says, "are outright comic and few are serious in the pedantic sence, yet to me most of them have that indefinable but unmistakable feel that lets you know you are handling the genuine article."

This calls to mind the March, 1966, issue of Holiday Magazine. The whole periodical endeavors to present a critical view of America's arts — drama, painting, sculpture, dance, films, music, poetry, literature and architecture.

The authors, while not mean, withhold no punches. Pauline Kael's discussion of Hollywood, for example, points out that the sex, sadism, gimmickery and appeal of the male hero are included in the movies because they appeal to hundreds of latent Walter Mittys (you remember him? The little guy who dreamt of great heroics as he drove to his dull job in a large office.)

THE LATEST McCall's presents a protest by Marya Mannes to the old past-time of ridiucling American men. "But American men as a whole are neither dumb nor foolish," she writes, "Rather, most of them are simply not living in a social climate conducive to the full development of their faculties."

She attributes this condition to two things: One is the prevailing American attitude that men are adolescent, naive, and lacking dignity; the other holds that in the United States, men are expected to conform to certain patterns of thought and behavior that makes them acceptable to society.

Now if you want something lighter to entertain your flu germ, try some of the other articles in McCall's: "Love Letters From a Poet to His Wife," "Why Men Don't Listen or Talk to Their Wives," or the short story, "The Quiet Girl."

Unusual Ballad Singers Finocchio Feature

LAVERNE CUMMINGS, long-time favorite at Finocchio's in San Francisco, is billed as "The debutante of song." Al Sinclair is called "The Statuesque chanteuse," and Cary Davis lives up to his reputation as "The golden-throated soprano." Each of these unusual ballad singers not only add thrills to the Finocchio shows, but also plenty of stylish manner in which they wear lavish gowns. . . . If you have a gourmet appreciation for good food and outstanding service, then make a reservation for lunch or dinner at Plateau 7, San Jose's elegant sky-high restaurant, which is situated on the seventh floor of the Swenson Building on First Street. . . . Report from Sil Oliva, the Exposition Fish Grotto "skipper": This has been one of the most exceptional years in his Fisherman's Wharf restaurant career. Seems to be no letup of the tourist trade, and the "locals" have proved to be regulars at the "Wharf."

PHYLLIS DILLER, America's "Playmate of the Year," has been tabbed to headline HOTEL SAHARA-TAHOE'S showbill when the $25 million resort hotel unveils the new 1200-seat High Sierra Theater-Restaurant May 12. HOTEL VICE PRESIDENT and GENERAL MANAGER R. D. SCHOFIELD announced the following plans for first nighters: "May 12 has been reserved for members of the press and special Lake Tahoe area friends. Dignitaries who perennially attend opening night functions have been invited by GOVERNOR and MRS. GRANT SAWYER to attend the March of Dimes benefit dinner slated for the following night, May 13. The general public would be admitted to second shows both nights. The $2 million theater has been under construction nearly two years; sound systems are the first of their kind to ever be utilized commercially. Names like TENNESSEE ERNIE FORD, NANCY WILSON, LIBERACE, HENRY MANCINI and others have been signed to appear in '66.

The wine jug which inspired the winery decor at "A Jug of Wine" restaurant in the Caravan Inn, Mountain View, is a cherished war souvenir of Manager Frank Dennison. The jug has always seemed to bring him luck and he gives it an honor position above the circular buffet table in the picturesque gourmet room. It's insured for $5,000.

Serve Up Waffles Around the Clock

Served any time of day — for breakfast, lunch or as a dessert — waffles can be "dressed up" in tempting ways.

Here's a favorite Plain Waffle recipe developed by home economists in the General Electric Housewares test kitchens. They suggest that you serve piping hot waffles at the table for informal family meals and buffet entertaining. This recipe yields four 4-section waffles.

Plain Waffle Batter

- 2 egg whites
- 2 egg yolks
- 1⅔ cups milk
- ¼ cup melted shortening or salad oil
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons baking powder

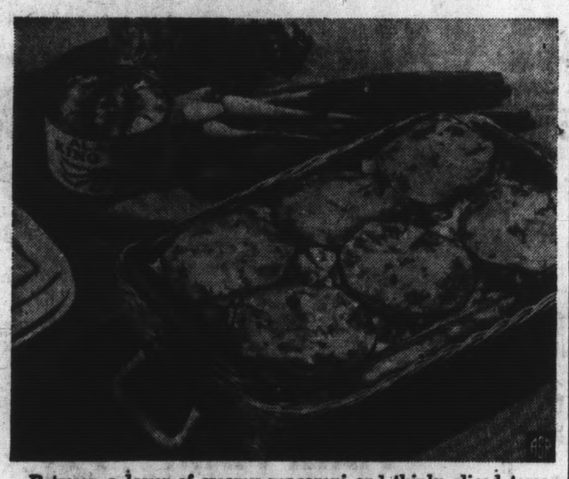
Place egg whites in mixing bowl; beat at high speed until stiff, not dry; set aside. In another bowl place egg yolks, milk and shortening; beat at medium speed until blended, about 30 seconds. Sift flour, sugar, salt and baking powder together. Add to egg yolk mixture and beat at medium speed, about one minute. Remove from mixer and fold in egg whites.

Preheat waffle baker according to the instruction booklet. Home economists in the G.E. Housewares test kitchens remind you to pour the batter from end to end along the center of the lower grid. Using about a cup of batter, spread evenly over grids. Close the waffle baker quickly. Once the signal light goes on, do not open the unit since this may break the waffle. When the light goes off the waffle is done. The Teflon-coated grids prevent food from sticking and assure easy clean-up.

Don't stack waffles; this will destroy their crispness. If you make them in advance for a group, keep them warm in a very low-heat oven with the door slightly open. Wrap leftover waffles in freezer paper and store them. Later, reheat in a toaster.

For breakfast, serve waffles with grilled sausages wrapped in bacon strips. Serve luncheon waffles with tuna or chicken a la king shortcake style. Top dessert waffles with fresh or frozen fruits; add a scoop of ice cream for a richer dessert.

A Crab Casserole For Entertaining



Between a layer of creamy macaroni and thinly sliced tomatoes are sweet tender morsels of canned Alaska King crab, the distinctive ingredient that makes this a company casserole. In addition, three varieties of cheese contribute their good flavor.

Company Crab Casserole may be prepared in advance and refrigerated until time to bake and serve. Since canned Alaska King crab is completely tendonless it is ready to use as it comes from the can. Simply slice it into bite-size pieces to spread over the macaroni-cheese layer.

To serve, mark the casserole into squares with a sharp knife and transfer with a broad spatula to dinner plates. Add a light, bright fruit salad and crunchy hard rolls to complete this perfectly scrumptious fare.

Company Crab Casserole

- 1 (7½ oz.) can Alaska King crab
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 cups (6 oz.) shell macaroni
- 1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
- ½ cup dairy sour cream
- ½ cup cottage cheese
- ¼ teaspoon garlic powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup sliced green onion
- 2 medium tomatoes, sliced thin
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese

Drain crab and slice into bite-size pieces. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Cook macaroni in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Have cream cheese at room temperature. Add to hot macaroni and toss gently to coat. Add sour cream, cottage cheese and seasonings. Spread in shallow buttered 2-quart baking dish. Sprinkle onion over macaroni. Spread with layer of crab, then a layer of sliced tomatoes. Sprinkle tomatoes with additional salt and pepper. Top with grated Cheddar cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

MEAT LOAF by the inch—Cut off he-man slabs of this delectable sourdough meat loaf for a melt-in-your-mouth treat. Rich red canned fomato sauce seasons and binds the savory meat loaf mixture zaked in "length" of sourdough bread.

Sour Dough Meat Loaf Is Unusual

If you've never eaten meat loaf by the half yard, you have a treat in store. We're not suggesting that you would eat that much "Sourdough Meat Loaf," but you will be tempted.

A ½-inch thick slice is cut from the top of a long loaf of sourdough bread, the center scooped out and filled with a savory ground beef mixture. The loaf is then wrapped in foil and baked. Absolutely scrumptious eating!

This is no ordinary meat loaf blend either. Shredded Cheddar cheese, sliced green olives and convenient canned tomato sauce are the special touches which make an unbeatable flavor combo.

This loaf may be prepared ahead of time and refrigerated for later baking. With it serve hot buttered broccoli, assorted pickles, fruited gelatin or a fruit sundae.

SOURDOUGH MEAT LOAF

- 1 loaf sourdough French bread
- 1 pound lean ground beef
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
- ½ cup chopped onion
- ½ cup sliced stuffed green olives
- 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
- ½ teaspoon thyme
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- Cheddar cheese slices for garnish

Cut a slice off the top of the loaf of bread about ½-inch thick. Scoop out the center of the loaf, leaving about an inch wide crust. Reserve 1 cup bread crumbs from center of loaf for meat loaf filling. Combine 1 cup bread crumbs with beef, egg, grated cheese, onion, olives, tomato sauce, thyme, salt and pepper. Pack in bread shell and wrap in foil. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 1 hour and 15 minutes. Unwrap loaf and top with cheese slices. Bake 5 minutes longer. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Soup And Sandwiches Fit Season

Soup and asndwiches are the order of the day during this blustery season. Good hot, nourishing soup and tasty sandwiches will give Dad and the kids needed energy to round out the afternoon. And, when serving your family nutritious lunches, don't forget yourself. You need as much fuel power as they do to complete your daily chores.

If there is any left-over, freeze it for later use. Or, pack it hot and bubbly into vacuum bottles for the children's school lunches.

TOMATO BEAN SOUP
(Makes about 8 servings)

- 1 quart milk, scalded
- 1 can (1 pound 12 ounces) baked beans in tomato sauce (about 3¼ cups)
- 1 can (4 ounces) tomato sauce

Kabobs Can Make Star Of Ham Slice

Four kinds of color-splashed fruits arranged around a center cut ham slice will make this easy-fix cut a center of attention. It's so pretty you needn't hesitate serving it to guests.

Here's an entree that can be served on short notice. An inch-thick ham slice will take a total broiling time of 15 to 20 minutes.

If a homemaker is pressed for time, skewers can be threaded with the fruit while the first side of the ham slice broils. Keep broiling temperature moderate so the meat will keep its attractive appearance.

Sunburst Ham Slice

- 1 smoked ham slice, cut ¾- to 1-inch thick
- 6 crabapples, drained
- 6 pieces banana, cut 1-inch thick
- 12 chunks pineapple, drained
- 6 cooked prunes, drained and pitted
- 6 4 to 5-inch wooden skewers

Set regulator for broiling. Place meat on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan and rack so the top of the meat is 2 to 3 inches from the heat and broil 8 to 10 minutes on first side. Make fruit fruit kabobs by threading a crabapple, banana piece, pineapple, and prune on wooden skewer. When one side of the meat is browned, turn. Place fruit kabobs around meat and continue broiling 6 to 8 minutes or until meat is done. Four to six servings.

A Timesaver For Pork Loins

How much time is saved by roasting fresh pork loins to the newly recommended 170-degree F. as compared to the older accepted time of 185 degrees F?

When roasted at 325 degrees F., the pork loins require five to six minutes a pound less for cooking time. Since the average pork loin roast weighs six pounds, this means a saving of 30 to 35 minutes.

DATE CEREAL

Pour fresh orange juice over oven-toasted rice cereal mixed with snipped fresh California dates; sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar and top with dairy sour cream.

NUTRITIOUS SALMON DISH — From the world's largest salmon producer comes this recipe for a nutritious salmon dish, which mixes salmon and herbs with asparagus spears in a pastry shell.

Fine Salmon Catch Makes a 'Best Buy'

Best news for Mrs. Housewife in the fish field for a long, long time is the appearance in the market place of the results of the 1965 summer catch of quality red salmon.

According to Sydney Rosenberg, president of NEFCO, the largest producer of salmon in the world, the 1965 catch was the biggest in many years.

Rosenberg pointed out that the size of the catch has already been reflected in the market place in substantial drops in the price of Reds — especially in the one-pound tall can.

He indicated available today is some of the "best quality salmon" he has seen in a decade. Pink salmon is only in moderate supply owing to an extremely limited catch last summer, but sufficient carry-over stocks from the previous year will enable them to hold their places on the grocery store shelves.

Since all of the world's supply of salmon is caught in barely three summer months, no one really knows what the future holds until September of each year.

A recent survey of housewives disproved a commonly held belief of the industry. Many people in the salmon industry believed housewives used red salmon for salads and sandwiches, and pink salmon for loaves, patties and casseroles. It took Mrs. Housewife to set the insustry straight!

The survey proved that most housewives chose the kind of salmon they like — pink or red — and then use it for all purposes — salads, sandwiches, loaves, patties, casseroles.

Their preference is made on whether they like the stronger flavored red salmon or the more delicately flavored and lighter colored pink salmon.

One of the most interesting facts about salmon is attributable to its natural sweet oil. This enables it to be put in the can raw and cooked in the can so that all the vitamins and natural juices are sealed into the product.

NUTRITIOUS SALMON DISH

1 10-oz. pkg. Frozen asparagus spears
¼ cup chopped onion
2 tbsp. butter
3 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup milk
2 tbsp. minced parsley
½ tsp. sweet basil
½ tsp. salt
1 1-lb. can or 2 flat cans salmon, flaked
1 unbaked, 9-inch pastry shell

Cook asparagus; drain. Saute onion in butter. Combine eggs, milk, herbs, salt, onion. Fold in flaked salmon. Reserve 6 asparagus spears; place rest in pastry shell. Pour in salmon mixture. Top with reserved asparagus spears. Bake in 425 degree oven, 35-40 minutes, or until set. Serves 6.

A 'Peach' Of an Upside Down Cake

Buttery-rich cake topped with peaches, brown sugar and butter glaze and accented with brilliant red maraschino cherries make Peach Upside-Down Cake a dessert delight. Home economists who developed this recipe, also suggest baking this cake in an oven-proof Teflon-lined pan for easy removal.

Peach Upside-Down Cake
(Makes 9 servings)

¼ cup butter
¾ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
Maraschino cherries
1 can (29 oz.) sliced peaches (reserve ½ cup syrup)
½ cup butter
½ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg, beaten
1½ cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Melt the ¼ cup butter in a 8x8x2-inch pan. Sprinkle brown sugar over melted butter. Arrange cherries and peach slices on top of brown sugar mixture. Cream the ½ cup butter and granulated sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in vanilla and egg. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with ½ cup peach syrup, beating only until smooth after each addition. Pour batter over peach slices and spread to edge of pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes.

Sprinkle 1 tablespoon granulated sugar on top of cake. Place a pan the same size, right side up, on the top of cake. Turn upside down. Lay a wet towel over bottom of pan for about 5 minutes. Remove pan. Cool. Cut into squares. Serve warm or cool with whipped cream, if desired.

Find Protein In Cheddar

Cheddar cheese is a fine source of protein and protein is needed for building and repairing body tissues. Casein, one of the most important members of the protein family, is found only in cheese and other milk and dairy foods. A pound of cheese supplies about 130 grams of protein while a pound of beef (round) supplies 96 grams. The price paid for each makes cheese a very inexpensive source of protein.

Have sour cream out of the refrigerator and at room temperature before you add it to a sauce or gravy to help prevent curdling.

NEW COMMISSION

S.S.F. Man Named To School Group

Trustees of the South Snn Francisco Unified School District, meeting in special session Saturday morning, appointed George Chimente of 613 Rocca Avenue to a new personnel commission that will serve as an advisory group on non-teaching hiring and firing.

Chimente is a South San Francisco clothier. The commission will have three members. The others will be appointed by the state.

The commission is authorized under a new law passed by the state legislature.

Non-teaching employes had been asked if they wanted a commission to advise the trustees on hiring or firing or whether they wanted the trustees to continue to have sole responsibility, according to Leo Padreddii, clerk of the board of trustees.

Padreddii said the 239 non-teaching employes in the district voted by a margin of about 3 to 1 January 10 for a commission.

In essence, the new group will act as intermediary between the employes and the trustees. The commission will make recommendations to the trustees on matters affecting non-teaching personnel.

In addition to appointing Chimente to the commission, trustees also recommended to the state that Jack Jones, a special agent for the state attorney general and Ray Veterlein, an attorney, both South San Francisco residents, be named to the group.

The commission will begin its duties July 1, Padreddii said.

SOCIAL SECURITY information will be detailed in Westlake this week and the three men above are taking no chances about missing the opportunity. Walter F. Brodie, left, Louis J. Gazzano, center, and Vincent Rodreguez study a Medicare booklet (part of the Social Security program) in preparation for the service. Schools Offer Tax Courses

Two of the most practical and popular courses offered by the Jefferson Union High School District adult division are "short term" classes; Civil Service Preparation and Income Tax Preparation.

Civil Service Preparation (Thursday, room 304 at Jefferson and Wednesday, room 12 at Westmoor) is a nine-week refresher course reviewing fundamentals of arithmetic, grammar spelling, punctuation, capitalization, vocabulary building, office procedures and general knowledge and skills required for civil service or business positions.

Income Tax Preparation (Thursday, room 5, at Westmoor, Tuesday, room 125, at Jefferson, and Wednesday room 226, at Terra Nova) is a four-meeting course which will cover Federal Income Tax structur as related to individuals, and will prov an understanding of pertin federal laws and regulations in that area.

Mud Halts School Work

Mud has temporarily halted further excavation work for another month on Good Shepherd parochial school in Pacifica according to Rev. Peter A. Kelly, pastor.

He added that the school would not be "anywhere near finished by September."

The plan calls for classrooms to be built, one at a time. Eight classrooms, a library and a convent are planned.

The site fronts on the east side of Oceana Boulevard and is between Oceana High School and the Chapel by the Sea Mortuary in the Sharp Park District.

Cancer Drive Talks Ready

A speaker's bureau has been established by the San Mateo County branch of the American Cancer Society.

The bureau's purpose is to "sell" Peninsula service and luncheon clubs on the 1966 Cancer Crusade this April.

Speakers will be members of the society's business and industry committee. Their message, according to chairman Lawrence Brian, will be two-fold.

In addition to pointing out the Cancer Crusade's fund-raising efforts, he said, speakers will call public attention to the value of frequent medical checkups.

Ram Freshman and Soph Classes Elect New Officers

Rob, who was president of his freshmen class and a member of Boys' Block W, was elected class president.

Laura Muscovitch was re-elected to her post as vice-president, which position she held during the fall semester. Besides her school studies and vice-president, Laura is an active member in three of Westmoor's clubs, the Associated Arts Club, Girls' Athletic Association, and the California Scholarship Federation.

Elected to the job of secretary was Nancy Foreman. Nancy, who is on the Teen Club Council, is also a member of B'nai B'rith Girls.

George Muller, active in speech contest work, was elected as treasurer.

Heading the new frosh officers is Cathy Meade. Vice-president at Benjamin Franklin Junior High School, Cathy's current activities at Westmoor include an interest in drama. This semester she hopes to concentrate her efforts toward the up-coming freshman dance and Spirit Week.

Aiding Cathy this semester will be Vivian Goldman and Chris Fetner, class vice-president and secretary respectively. Vivian was eighth grade secretary, as well as a cheerleader in Ben Franklin.

Nancy Eichelberger, president of Girls' Service and pompon girl at Ben Franklin, is the newly elected treasurer of the class.

Girls' Athletic Association and Future Teachers' Club are two which hold Nancy's interest.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Ben Sharpe, an owner of the Cooperwood Lodge, reported to Daly City police last week that vandals had cut the front windshield of his truck, parked next to the lodge, and thrown a corrosive material on the hood of the vehicle.

Noonan Gets Support Of Committee

Thomas F. Noonan of Daly City, candidate for San Mateo County Assessor, has received the backing of the Committee Opposing Inequitable Assessments.

The committee, according to spokesmen Vern Elder and Vance Wardlow, opposes incumbent assessor Ralph Woodman because of what it calls "his unfair assessment practices."

Some 50 members, said Elder, have pledged support for Noonan.

A move to recall Woodman will apparently not be carried out, however.

Noonan has refused to run in a recall election, and, in Wardlow's words, "Although there are now sufficient signatures on the recall petition to obtain a special recall election, the general feeling of the group was to follow Noonan's opinion concerning the expense of a special election."

Wardlow said 13,782 signatures are required to force the recall election.

Instead, Noonan will oppose Woodman at the polls June 7.

The Councilmen and the 'Councilmen'

DALY CITY hosted students from Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools Thursday at the city's annual Youth in Government Week luncheon. Here, councilmen stand behind students who are portraying their roles. The councilmen, left to right, are Edward Dennis, Bernard Lycett, Francis Pacelli, Albert Polonsky and Micheal DeBernardi. The students, left to right, are John Lanthier (W), Marvin Rance (J), Alan McAllister (J), Marty Craig (J), and Jeff Thomas (W). (Post-Times Photo)

It Was Time For Blushing

IT WAS BLUSHING time for a phalanx of Daly City officials Thursday as they good-naturedly took it on the chin from students at the city's annual Youth in Government Week luncheon.

The students, from Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools, are taking the roles of city councilmen and department heads this week and will conduct their own "council" session at 8 p.m. Monday in City Hall.

At Thursday's luncheon held in Val's Redwood Room Restaurant, the students were introduced by the city officials to whose roles they have been assigned and the students got right to the point—in a spirit of fun.

WHEN COUNCILMAN ALBERT POLONSKY introduced Marty Craig of Jefferson, she replied with a mischievous smile:

"I finally realized that our city isn't all that wonderful but that our councilmen are trying. I'd like to thank Mr. Polonsky because he showed me all the faults."

After the audience of some 60 city officials, businessmen and educators finished guffawing at that one, Alan McAlister from Jefferson, introduced by Mayor Francis Pacelli as the student mayor for the week, declared:

"From my personal vantage point, I thought Daly City was actually standing still. But I find it's a progressive city, a vibrant city and actually moving toward the future."

The city officials seemed to breathe a little easier.

THURDAY'S luncheon was combined with the regular monthly meeting of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

John Wuerthner of the chamber, substituting for Edward Morgan, chamber president who was out of town on business, noted that "the youth of this town, this county, this country are going to eventually run things . . . they will take over."

He introduced Fred Tautenhahn, president of the Skyline Plaza Merchants' Association. Members of the association were guests of the chamber.

Other speakers included Elio Fontana, chairman of the board of trustees of the Jefferson High School District who introduced teachers and administrators who were associated with the Youth in Government program.

Terra Nova Topics

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

TERRA NOVA is hosting a foreign exchange student from Ecuador.

Diego Davalos, who attends a high school in Los Banos, is visiting the TN campus as part of a program among California communities to exchange their American Field Service Students for week-long visits.

This gives the foreign student a chance to see American life in communities of various sizes.

While Diego is at Terra Nova, Pacifica's French A.F.S. student at Oceana, Anne-Marie Galopin, is visiting in Reedly.

Diego is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell James. He arrived at Terra Nova to be greeted enthusiastically with a welcoming reception after school.

Various students have been taking him around their classes and acquanting him with the TN campus and its students. More activities have been planned for Diego.

MEANWHILE, Pacifica's A.F.S. chapter has sent out pleas to individuals and organizations within the community to contribute to the fund which will finance Pacifica's foreign student exchange program.

A thousand dollars is needed by March 1 to make possible application for a foreign student at Terra Nova next year.

Donations may be mailed to the Pacifica A.F.S. chapter, Box 1361, Pacifica, California.

SENIORS WEARING crazy hats, juniors with crazy colors, sophomores with crazy shirts, and freshmen wearing crazy socks are walking around the TN campus today, Crazy Day, to kick off this year's annual Spirit Week.

Tomorrow TN students will come as their favorite movie characters. Friday each class will wear their class colors (seniors—white, juniors—black, soph—gold, frosh—red) and put on a class skit at the spirit assembly.

All this represents the fierce competition between classes to outdo each other for the Cheer-Jug award. It also represents a chance for students to show their high spirits with official blessings.

DIEGO DAVALOS, a foreign exchange student from Ecuador, visited Terra Nova last week. His visit was part of a program among communities to exchange their AFS (American Field Service) students for week-long visits.

Diego, a 17-year-old senior hailing from Quito, Ecuador, is attending high school in Los Banos this year. He was greeted on his arrival Monday with a welcoming reception.

Various students took him around their classes and acquainted him with the campus and its students. He stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell James.

While Diego was at TN, Pacifica's French AFS student, Anne-Marie Galopin, visited in Reedley.

Looks Like Much Water For Planting

Freeway planting on the Coast Highway in Pacifica may be a lot more ambitious than just ice plant—if water service planned for the area is any indication.

Seven two-inch motors, equal to a 142-home subdivision, were approved by the North Coast County Water District for state freeway planting on the Coast Highway.

Sprinklers will supply the water to the center strip and the rates will be the same as residential, according to Water District Manager Harlan Hill.

In other business, annexation ot the district was approved for Rosita Terrace.

This new subdivision, located on the south side of Linda Mar, formerly was a ranch. The owner, Ross Conti, plans to build 47 homes in the development.

A progress report was given on an application for a wilderness park, south of Linda Mar. Approval for the park has been given by the County Park Department and the County Planning Commission.

Once the park has been approved by the County Board of Supervisors, Hill said the district will submit plans to the Housing and Home Finance Association of the federal government, which would provide 50 per cent of the monies for land acquisition.

The county then will provide 25 per cent and the district 25 per cent. After payment of a $1 legal requirement fee, the park would then be leased to the City of Pacifica, which could re-apply for a 50 per cent HHFA park development grant.

Jeff Meeting Site Shifted

The regular bi-monthly meeting Monday of the trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District has been shifted from the district's administrative offices to Jefferson High School.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 pm..

Scholarship Donation Is Given to SFS

The largset scholarship donation from private sources in the institution's history has been received by San Francisco State College.

Forty-two thousand dollars for endowment funds for assistance to worthy students was granted from the Henry E. Picard and Charles H. Lurmann Scholarship Foundation, according to Dr. Helen R. Bedesem, Co-ordinator of Student Financial Aid.

San Francisco State and the University of California at Los Angeles were selected by the trustees of the Foundation to receive the funds in equal shares.

The purpose is to provide scholarships for deserving young men and women who are residents of California or Nevada.

"We are honored to have been chosen to receive this fund," stated Dr. Bedesem, "and to learn of the Foundation's interest in our students who will be the future recipients of the scholarship award."

The Foundation was created in 1953. Since that time they have granted nearly 50 scholarships at the rate of $500 from income of the trust fund.

Last December the Foundation decided to select San Francisco State College and UCLA to receive funds on a more permanent basis.

The Foundation was established by the wholesale distributors of Burgermeister beer.

Elbert W. Davis is the trustee of the Foundation and John Simon of Fresno is committee chairman.

S.M. SUPERVISORS

Span With Rails Urged By Board

A second Bay bridge with provisions for Bay Area Rapid Transit rails will be the quickest and cheapest way of getting both BART and the badly-needed second bridge into operation sooner, the San Mateo County board of supervisors has said in a presentation to the California Toll Bridge Authority.

The presentation was to have been made February 16, stating the supervisors' position at a TBA meeting, which was cancelled, so Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, delgated the job, sent it on anyway.

His statement reiterates the supervisors' stand that the bridge is needed right now but says that although the Sierra Point crossing into San Mateo County is preferred the county will go along with whatever choice for a crossing is made to "get the best value for our transportation dollar."

The other prominent choice is the Indian Basin area in San Francisco, which Fitzgerald's statement acknowledged would take care of 30 per cent of cross-Bay traffic compared to an estimated 8 per cent for the Sierra Point crossing.

The statement also protested any approval of the $133 million in bonds BART wants for its under-Bay tube, a figure that has now risen to $175 million by later estimates.

Voting of this money would be a commitment to the tube and to the higher $175 million cost, Fitzgerald said.

The bridge costs would be a comparatively small $90 million, Fitzgerald said.

D.C. Police Press Hunt For Youth

Daly City police have pressed their search for a youth who has been seen exposing himself on several occasions during the past two weeks.

Last Wednesday, a posse of nine officers surrounded a multi-block area after an 18-year-old girl reported that the youth had exposed himself in the vicinity of Abbot Avenue and Parma Street.

The youth eluded the net and reportedly hid out for a while in a Market Street house until he was discovered by the occupant. He also was seen jumping over a fence, police said.

Sgt. Henry Sundermann said the youth was described as about 16 years old. He said the description matched that given by other witnesses in the past two weeks but that, to date, the youth has not made any "advances."

A Week For Brotherhood

This week has been declared "Brotherhood Week" in Daly City by Mayor Francis P. Pacelli.

In his proclamation, the mayor asked citiens to join others across the nation in the observance, which coincides with the week of George Washington's birthday.

He referred to "the basic ideals of respect for people and human rights," calling them "essential to our way of life."

"Brotherhood Week," said Pacelli, should be a time "to rededicate ourselves to the practice of brotherhood of man."

The national observance is sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

GERHARD P. PALETTA

Army Second Lieutenant Gerhard P. Paletta, 23, son of Louis G. Paletta, 152 Fairlawn Avenue, Daly City, was assigned to the Second Armored Division at Ford Hood, Texas, January 13. Paletta, a platoon leader in Headquarters Company of the division's First Brigade, entered the Army in March 1964, completed basic combat training at Fort Dix, N.J., and was last stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.
